G. O. P. ELEPHANT TO BE HARNESSED WITH BULL MOOSE

Chicago Conferees Announce They Will Seek to Unite Republican Party With the Roosevelt Organization.

CONVENTION PROPOSED TO EFFECT COALITION

Radical Changes Suggested in Party Affairs, Especially With Reference to Conduct of National Conventions.

Chicago, May 12.—That a uniting of the progressive party with the republican party is not only desired, but actually is sought, was the gist of sentiment expressed at the close today of a two days' conference at which republican leaders outlined plans for reorganizing the party.

Herbert S. Hadley, formerly governor of Missouri, who, with Senators Cummins, of Iowa; Borah, of Idaho, and Sherman, of Illinois, led the discussion at the conference, said afterwards that the desire to have those back in the party who left it to join the progressive party was "manifest." The coalition, he added, was not to be effected by any scheme such as the passing of resolutions by leaders, but rather by a remedying of the causes in the republican party which resulted in the separation.

The conference, attended by six United States senators, numerous members of the house of representatives and leaders from states as distant as Massachusetts and California, resulted in the issuance of a statement. It expressed the belief that the republican national committee should call a republican national convention at as early a date as possible to effect radical changes in party affairs and especially in reference to the conduct of national conventions.

Hadley Talks of Coalition.

"Is it to be inferred that the republicans who met here desire to have adherents of the progressive party come into the ranks of the republicans?" Mr. Hadley was asked.

"Manifestly so," he replied. "The coalition is to be brought about not by any mechanical means, but by a frank recognition by the rank and file of both parties that the remaining divided they are defeating all that they both favor. All we could accomplish or try to accomplish here was to start the movement for bringing about the changes in conducting the affairs of the party which seem necessary. These changes are to correct the evils which have been a just cause of complaint in the past, and are necessary in order that the will of the majority may control in future party councils.

"The changes we shall seek are for a new basis of representation, a recognition of the result of direct primaries and a different method of passing upon the credentials."

"Does the suggestion to reunite the party mean that those who joined the progressive party will be asked to come back?" Senator Cummins was asked.

"It means just as I have said before, that the convention will be a sort of Lord's Supper and all those who believe may partake," replied Senator Cummins.

Statement by Reorganizers.

The following statement was given out:

"At an informal conference of republicans from eleven states held at Chicago May 12 it was voted that it be submitted to the national republican committee as the opinion of those present that a national convention of the party should be held this year at as early a date as may be practicable to consider the expediency of changing the basis of representation in future conventions so that the delegates shall proportionately represent republican voters and not general population, to the end that the will of the members of the party may be more accurately determined; also for the purpose of changing the rules relating to delegates contested before the national committee so that the primary election laws of the various states shall be recognized and have full force; and also for the purpose of making such other changes in the methods of conducting national conventions and campaigns as shall conduce to giving the utmost possible effect to the principles and policies of the party.

"It was further the opinion that such a convention might properly and usefully take any other action desirable to reunite the party and to give assurance that it stands for constructive and progressive activities in the affairs of government to the end that the common welfare may be advanced.

"It was the unanimous belief of those present that the changes suggested should be made forthwith and that the national committee be urged to take steps to such an end."

Regarding the Party.

Robert Lucey, former lieutenant governor of Massachusetts; Senator Borah, Senator Kenyon, W. F. James, state senator of Michigan, and James A. Troutman, state senator of Kansas, composed the statement expressing the sentiment of the conference.

Much interest centered about the significance of including in the statement the phrase about "reuniting the party." Senator Cummins explained

ATLANTA'S SYSTEM OF SEWAGE LAUDED

Imhoff Tank Feature, as Embraced in the Local Half-Million Plant, Will Be Used for Orange, N. J.

A sewage disposal plant of 14,000,000 gallons daily capacity, with the Imhoff tank feature, as embraced in Atlanta's half-million dollar plants, will be erected in Orange, N. J., if the recommendation of a majority of the members of the aldermanic board of that city is carried out.

Nine aldermen and two members of the advisory committee of Orange, who came to Atlanta Sunday to make an inspection of the three plants, declared themselves as being positively opposed to the Imhoff system before they saw Proctor creek in operation, but after a close inspection of the process, ten of the seven visitors expressed themselves as being satisfied that Atlanta has the finest system in the world.

Favor Imhoff System.

Eight aldermen said that they would join in a report favoring the Imhoff system such as Atlanta has adopted. The two committeemen, Dan F. Gallagher and Stewart Lindsley, will favor a report recommending the system for Orange.

"Atlanta is a wonderful city," said Henry T. Stetson, a member of the board of aldermen and a nephew of John B. Stetson, the famous hatter. "I have been about the country a bit, but I have never seen a city of such progress, enterprise and industry. The last time I was here—two years ago—I was surprised with what I saw, but this visit has opened my eyes. Atlanta is the place for manufacturers of the world to locate.

Orange, the progressive little city of the Jersey state, is confronted with a greater problem of sewage disposal than was Atlanta. All sewage from Orange, East Orange and Montclair is dumped into the Passaic river. The last legislature of New Jersey made it prohibitive to empty sewage into the stream after 1914. As a consequence, seven municipalities are up against a situation which demands immediate attention, and Orange has taken hold of the proposition by sending its aldermen to look at the best there is in the country.

Disposal System Plans.

One plan is to erect one disposal system for the three municipalities, and another is a scheme of the Passaic valley commission to run the sewage to the harbor of New York, thirteen miles away. The state of New York and the United States government has interfered with an injunction which threatens to eliminate that plan. The Orange officials believe that it will be cheaper to invest $250,000 in a sewage system of its own, thereby saving the taxpayers the 52 per cent they would have to pay by going into the system proposed by the commission.

Alderman Stetson believes that the Imhoff tank system will be the thing for Orange, especially so in view of the fact that the system will not be taxed with the drain or trade wastes. He figures a plant of 14,000,000 will be sufficient to take care of the three municipalities. Atlanta's plants will have a total capacity of 16,000,000.

Will Go to Savannah.

The visitors will leave Atlanta Tuesday morning. All but three are going to Savannah to take the boat back to New York. Alderman Stetson is going New Orleans. He will leave the Crescent city Wednesday on the steamer Momus for New York. In the party were Aldermen P. Allen Smith, Henry T. Stetson, Charles T. Jones, Frank A. Lemaster, John Keaster, Patrick A. Quinn, Owen P. Dolan, Owen P. Casey and Christopher Freeman. Dan T. Gallagher and Stewart Lindsley, members of the advisory committee, were in the party.

Captain R. M. Clayton, chief of construction, and W. A. Davis, a member of Atlanta's water board, took charge of the visitors Monday. They were taken in automobiles to the Proctor creek, Peachtree creek and Intrenchment creek properties. In the afternoon the visitors were entertained at luncheon at the Capital City club.

After lunch the party visited the cyclorama at Grant park, city prison and other places of interest.

Mayor Woodward, Councilmen Hall and Colcord, Assistant Engineer Hansell, Chemist C. C. Harmon and Owen Bishop accompanied the party.

"You have converted us, and we'll boost Atlanta," was the parting assurance of the visitors when the crowd returned to the city.

EXPERT ON PAVING SELECTED MONDAY

August Christhilf, of Baltimore, Will Be Appointed Assistant to Captain Donaldson.

August Christhilf, a paving expert of Baltimore, will be appointed assistant to Captain T. J. Donaldson, superintendent of the stockade. It is expected that when the county commissioners meet in special session next Thursday to consider bids on the new courthouse work.

Mr. Christhilf will have charge of the pavement binder work of the convicts. He has had a number of years' experience in this particular line, and is highly recommended to the public works committee, who have been instructed by the commissioners to secure a man to look after this feature of the public work.

Mr. Christhilf arrived in Atlanta Sunday. Monday afternoon he made an informal tour of inspectio. of the paving of Peachtree and other streets where work is now in progress. He was accompanied by Captain Donaldson, Shelby Smith and S. B. Turman.

Condition of Flagler.

MY SON INNOCENT, DECLARES MOTHER OF LEO M. FRANK

"I Am Confident That He Will Be Proven Not Guilty of This Terrible Crime," She Tells Reporter.

HAS NOT SEEN HER SON SINCE HE WAS MARRIED

W. J. Burns Secured to Take Charge of Phagan Mystery Investigation—Engaged by Friends of Murdered Girl.

ANOTHER ARREST EXPECTED IN PHAGAN MYSTERY CASE

It was reported on good authority this morning that officers working upon the Mary Phagan murder would make a new arrest today or tomorrow, which is expected to throw an entirely new light upon the case.

None of the officials have discussed this new phase of the mystery, and whether or not their activity of the past few days has resulted in the unearthing of clews leading to another arrest is unknown.

"My son is entirely innocent, but it is a terrible thing that even a shadow of suspicion should fall upon him. I am sure of his innocence and am confident that he will be proven not guilty of this terrible crime."

Mrs. Rudolph Frank, aged mother of Leo M. Frank, who is held in the Tower as a suspect in the Mary Phagan mystery case, made this statement yesterday afternoon to a representative of The Constitution at her home in Brooklyn.

She had just informed her friends of the arrest of her son in Atlanta and of the charge made against him in the Gate City. She had not told them earlier because of her belief that he would be quickly set at liberty.

Mrs. Frank has not seen her son since she came south with her husband to attend his marriage. It is probable, however, that she will soon come again to be with him at the trial.

Last night The Constitution received the following telegram from its New York representative:

Story From New York.

New York, May 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. Rudolph Frank, of No. 152 Underhill avenue, Brooklyn, mother of Leo M. Frank, general superintendent of the National Pencil company, of Atlanta, Ga., made it known to her friends today that she had received news from Atlanta that her son has been held for the grand jury in connection with the murder of Mary Phagan. 14-year-old employee of the company.

Mrs. Frank has not seen her son since two years ago last April, when she and her husband went to Atlanta to be present at his marriage.

Leo Frank, although only 29 years old, has advanced so rapidly and was so well thought of by his employers that he was given charge of all three plants of the company at Atlanta. Young Frank went south about six years ago. He is a Cornell graduate and is very highly thought of and greatly respected in Atlanta, according to his mother's statement. He is a church man, has taken a leading part in organized charitable work and is a member of several clubs in the southern city.

"I know my son is entirely innocent, but it is a terrible thing that even a shadow of suspicion should fall upon him," said Mrs. Frank. "You see, my boy was the last one, so far as the police know, who saw the girl alive. He

DECATUR TO HAVE $100,000 HOTEL

Board of Trade Is Now Negotiating With Northern Capitalists and the Deal Will Soon Be Closed.

By Richard J. Broyles.

The Decatur board of trade is negotiating with northern capitalists for the erection of a $100,000 hotel in Decatur and it is expected that the deal will be closed some time in the near future, according to the announcement of Robert C. Ramspeck, secretary of the board of trade.

One of the men interested was in Decatur last week looking for a suitable site. Two sites in the center of town are under consideration, one of which is expected to be selected.

Part of Progressive Program.

The negotiations to bring the new hotel to Decatur is a part of the progressive program which the board of trade has recently put into effect. In addition to this improvement, the board of trade has raised $40,000 for the improvement of Decatur's streets, and a part of this fund is now being expended in this work. The DeKalb county convict force is now diverting McDonough, Candler and Oak streets, as well as portions of Ponce de Leon and College avenues.

Both Atlanta and Decatur realty men believe that Decatur is awakening to the responsible position she occupies as a residential suburb. Climatic conditions are good and the location at Decatur is ideal.

Good Suburban Service.

Within thirty minutes of the heart of Atlanta, the town has excellent suburban electric car service. And in addition to this the highways between Decatur and Atlanta are kept in fine condition for automobilists.

North Decatur merges directly into Druid Hills, which leads to the faith in many people that it is only a matter of time until the territory between Atlanta and the sister city will be built up so solidly that there will be virtually but one city.

Decatur offers extraordinary inducements as a residential suburb by reason of its educational facilities. It has a fine and not overcrowded public school system, with buildings in easy reach of all sections of the town. Besides this is the Agnes Scott college for young women, an institution distinctly Decatur's and one of which she is justly proud.

ELECTION OFFICIALS SAVED BY HIGH COURT

New Orleans, May 12.—Because the Louisiana election laws fail specifically to impose upon commissioners of election the duty of making sworn returns of the votes cast on proposed constitutional amendments, the 168 indicted election officials of the city of New Orleans who were charged with falsifying the returns on amendments in the November election will not have to face trial for their alleged crimes. The Louisiana state supreme court today handed down a decision to this effect.

The court held that whereas the law provides penalties for failure to make true returns of the votes cast for national, state, parish and municipal officers, no such provision is made for tabulating votes on constitutional amendments, and penalties imposed for violation of the statute have no application to acts of omission or commission in connection with such votes.

According to the report of the grand jury which investigated the alleged frauds, there was wholesale falsification of the returns on the amendments in the city. A recount of the votes made by the grand jury covered nearly two months.

Local News in Constitution Gathered By the Emory Boys

The Constitution this morning issues the most unique edition in its own history and, perhaps, the most unique in the history of any big daily newspaper in the United States, the entire edition having been reported and edited by members of the class of journalism of Emory college.

Thirty strong the embryo newspaper scribes from Emory hove into The Constitution office Monday morning, rolled up their sleeves and went after the "dope" tooth and nail.

Reporters Are Guides.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when the regular reportorial staff men reported for duty, three of the Emory men were assigned to each reporter and sent out on the day's routine.

The reporters in charge of the Emory boys were not supposed and, incidentally, with the prospects of "nothing to do until tomorrow," were not inclined to do anything more than merely tell them where to go and whom to see. And that was all they did. The Emory boys did the rest, and did it thoroughly and in good newspaper style.

This issue of The Constitution speaks for their work.

To be sure there were many of them who were none too familiar with the "game," but in the heart of every one there was the enthusiasm and sureness of intent which will some day in all likelihood see them at the heads of some of the leading papers of the country.

Enthusiasm Furnishes Excitement.

There was no great number of big stories breaking at every ring of the telephone as each one had fondly hoped would be the case when only he was sitting next to the telephone. But excitement furnished by the very enthusiasm with which the Emory boys entered the game.

Some of them had chances at good stories and big stories. For others, luck did not "break" right.

But all did good work, and went back to Emory with the satisfaction of having made an honest effort and having gained much by contact with "things as they are."

Fair Taggers Own City for Day: Receipts Will Approach $5,000

The opening of business Monday morning, which was Tag day, found the city sacked and the citizens in the power of an army of fair invaders. All day long merry warfare was waged upon pedestrians, all of whom came to the realization that war is not all that is cracked up to be. Everybody declared it to be, and surrendered to without resistance.

The receipts of Monday were not counted last night, but Mrs. W. S. Elkin, of the committee in charge of the campaign, stated last night that she believed the receipts would run between $4,500 and $5,000.

Atlanta never had a better time in her life than she had on Monday.

When a person had bought one tag he was supposed to be proof against further depletion of his worldly goods. And, indeed, he might have been had not the management of the campaign been so far-seeing as to select a corps of 200 of the prettiest girls in the city to do the work. But people with but one tag swinging to the breeze of having coat lapels were conspicuous by their scarcity. *Almost every*body had at least half a dozen tags decorating their clothes.

Everybody gave willingly and had world's of fun in the giving.

SULTAN NOT TRUSTED BY AMERICAN COURT

Turkish Ruler No More Than His Humblest Subject to Justice Davis.

New York, May 12.—The sultan of Turkey, through his legal representative, was notified today that in an American law court his position is the same as that of his humblest subject. The question of the sultan's right as a litigant arose in the state supreme court, which has before it the Turkish ruler's suit to get possession of $10,000 insurance money on the life of H. S. Tavshanjian, a wealthy Armenian merchant, who was assassinated here in 1907.

The policy in question was in favor of Mr. Tavshanjian's mother, who until her death, three years ago, resided in Armenia.

Justice Davis said he had received a letter from the Turkish consul general here requesting that in view of the plaintiff's distinguished rank he be released from this obligation. In denying the request, Justice Davis said it did not matter whether a plaintiff was a potentate or one of his subjects, and that kings, sultans and emperors should not import their domestic affairs into American courts.

BRITISH WARSHIP GOES TO COERCE GUATEMALA

Long-Standing Claims of British Subjects Are to Be Enforced.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 12.—The British cruiser Aeolus sailed from here Saturday evening, ostensibly for Belize, British Honduras. The real objective of th ewarship, it is understood, is Puerto Barrios, Guatemala, to enforce a settlement of the long-standing claims of British subjects against Guatemala. Recently Great Britain placed a time limit on this settlement, which expires May 18.

The latter part of April Guatemala made an appeal to the United States against reprisals by Great Britain for Guatemala's failure to pay claims of British bondholders. The Guatemalan minister, in directing attention to the situation, pointed out that plans were under way for a large loan, with the proceeds of which it was proposed to pay Guatemala's British debts and reform her currency system.

Big Rosin Shipment.

New Orleans, May 12.—The largest single shipment of rosin in the history of this port, 10,450 barrels, left here for Liverpool today in the British steamship Wayfarer.

LEADERS OF ARMY OF PRESBYTERIANS COME TOMORROW

Special Trains From Philadelphia and New York Will Roll Into Atlanta at 12;55 O'Clock on Wednesday.

ATLANTA HOMES OPEN TO 1,500 COMMISSIONERS

Conferences Will Be Held This Afternoon and Wednesday—Assembly Meets on Thursday.

By C. S. Morris.

Beginning Wednesday at noon the delegates and visitors to the general Presbyterian assembly will pour into Atlanta. Special trains from New York and Philadelphia will arrive at 12:55 o'clock tomorrow, to be followed later in the afternoon by a number from Pennsylvania, and other points in the east, and from the west. The attendants from local points will arrive from Wednesday afternoon to Thursday morning.

By Thursday noon it is expected that 1500 accredited commissioners from the various Presbyteries of the United States and Canada, and 5,000 visitors, coming from all points in, the United States, Canada, Mexico, Alaska, and from across the waters, will have arrived.

Ample arrangements have been made for the entertainment of all visitors and delegates by the committee on hospitality. In entertaining this vast assemblage, Atlanta, as usual, will carry out her boast of being the most hospitable city of the south. The hosts will be notified as to their guests today.

All Will Help Entertain.

While it is called a Presbyterian assembly, all denominations will have a great deal of interest in the proceedings, the Methodists, Baptists, Catholics and Jews opening their doors wide, as well as the Presbyterians, to the great crowd of visitors.

A conference on education will begin this afternoon in the First Baptist church at 3 o'clock, which will be attended by the largest of the advance guard of the assemblies. This session will continue through to Wednesday, with the meeting at the Harris Street Presbyterian church at 8 p. m. Wednesday. This will end the pre-assembly conferences, and will lead up to the one-day session and joint mass meeting in the Auditorium Armory Thursday night, at which James McDonald, managing editor of the Toledo Blade, and one of the foremost laymen in the world, will speak.

Program for Wednesday.

The complete program for Wednesday is as follows:

Conference on Evangelism—North Avenue Presbyterian church beginning Wednesday morning, before a joint conference of all commissioners.

College Presidents' Conference—Harris Street church, Wednesday morning, afternoon and evening.

Conference on Education—Baptist tabernacle, Wednesday, held by the delegates of the U. S. A. assembly.

Conference on Theological Seminaries, U. S. A.—Central Congregational church, Wednesday at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.

Conference on Laymen's Missionary Movement—First Presbyterian church, Wednesday night.

Joint Conference on Foreign Missions—First Presbyterian church, Wednesday night.

Conference on Missions, by U. S. A. Commissioners—Harris street church, Wednesday morning and afternoon.

Unique Mass Meeting.

The mass meeting in the Auditorium is unique, in that it will be the first joint Presbyterian meeting ever held in the history of the world. Hundreds of commissioners and delegates will be in attendance from all parts of the world. Dr. H. H. Bell, of the United Presbyteria church; Dr. J. H. Pressley, of the Associated Reform Presbyterian church, and J. E. Orr, a prominent layman of Atlanta, will address the meeting.

Moderators Retire.

Dr. Mark A. Matthews, of Seattle, Presbyterian church, and Dr. Thomas Wash., moderator of the Northern S. Clyce, of Austin, Tex., moderato. of the southern church, will retire from their positions Thursday. Dr. Matthews will deliver his farewell address as moderator of the Baptist Tabernacle Thursday morning. Dr. Glyce delivering his last sermon at the North Avenue Presbyterian church. Both services will be held at 10:30 a. m.

Dr. Mathews' Interesting Career.

One of the interesting personalities present will be Dr. Mark A. Mathews, president of the American Presbyterian assembly. He was born in a one-room frame house in Calhoun, Ga., in 1867. After completing his course at the local school, he was forced, on account of financial conditions, to take a position in one of the local dry goods stores, and was deprived of the advantage of a college education. However, he did not give up his studies, but studied late every night, and in this way acquired a splendid education. While a mere boy he showed religious bent, and at the age of 19 he was licensed to preach. Though he was opposed by his father, and great difficulties arose in his path, he climbed step by step to the highest position in the greatest presbytery in the world.

His sermons carry with them that element of force and spiritual wisdom that is acquired only by those divinely called and those who have applied themselves fully to their vocation. He will be heard here several times.

Big Mass Meeting Sunday.

One of the many interesting features of the assembly will be the Sunday school missionary mass meeting, to be held Sunday afternoon, May 18, at 3 o'clock, in the Central Presbyterian church, when Dr. A. L. Phillips will preside.

The purpose of the meeting is to instruct the Sunday school leaders, from the platform, concerning Presbyterian missions.

The addresses of the afternoon will be "The Value of Missionary Education in the Sunday School," by Rev. Charles R. Watson, D.D., of Philadelphia, Pa., followed by a demonstration of a missionary opening exercise, entitled "America's Home," presented by the young people of the Central Presbyterian church. Other interesting and instructive numbers will follow, presented by Mrs. D. E. Wald, of New York; George Innes, of Philadelphia, and Rev. A. W. Halsey, D.D., of New York. An after-meeting will be held, in which the instruction of missions in the Sunday school will be discussed.

A large chorus, under the direction of Professor Joseph McLean, will furnish the meeting with special music.

Prominent Men Attending.

Among the eminent men attending the assembly will be Rev. Mark A. Mathews, D.D., of Seattle, Wash., returned moderator of the U. S. A. assembly; Rev. Thomas F. Clyce, D.D., of Austin, Texas, returned moderator of southern Presbyterianism; Rev. Hugh H. Bell, D.D., of San Francisco, Cal., returned moderator of the western Presbyterian assembly; Rev. U. Hall Young D.D., of Alaska Dr. Young has spent some thirty-five or forty years in Alaska, and is the highest authority on Alaskan Presbyterianism; Rev. Henry S. Coffin, of New York city, of the U. S. A. assembly; Rev. J. S. Ryerson, D.D., of Louisville, Ky., U. S. assembly; Rev. D. F. McGill, D.D., of Pittsburg, Pa., stated clerk of U. P. assembly; Rev. William H. Faulkes, D.D., of Philadelphia, Pa., general secretary of ministerial relief and sustentation, U. S. A. assembly; Professor John Coulter, of University of Chicago, U. S. A. assembly; Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, D.D., LL.D., of Washington, D. C., on executive committee, U. S. A. assembly; Rev. W. McF. Alexander, D.D., LL.D., pastor of Peptalia Street Presbyterian church, New Orleans, La., southern U. C. assembly; Rev. Thomson Whalling, president of Columbia Theological seminary and commissioner from South Carolina; Rev. William H. Roberts, D.D., LL.D., stated clerk, U. S. A. assembly for the past thirty years. Dr. Roberts will arrive in the city tomorrow. Rev. David G. Wylie, D.D., Ph.D., LL.D., pastor of the Scotch Institutional church of New York city.

Will Speak on Missions.

Rev. W. R. King, D.D., of Monmouth, Ill., who has just returned from a trip around the world in the interest of Presbyterianism, will deliver an interesting and instructive lecture Wednesday evening in the interest of missions at the First Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock p. m. Following Dr. King's address Dr. Henry S. Coffin, of New York, will deliver an address.

Among other hospitalities extended to the delegates and visitors will be the reception given by the Atlanta Presbyterians to the assembly Saturday afternoon on the grounds of Agnes Scott college, from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock. Arrangements have been made for transportation to and from the grounds.

Oneness of Presbyterianism.

The real oneness of Presbyterianism, according to Rev. William H. Roberts, is that they have the same fundament, al faith; the belief that the Bible is the Word of God; that they believe in Jesus Christ as the only begotten Son of God, and the only Savior from sin; the principles of church government are the same; that their belief in worshiping in spirit rather than form is the same, and that their common history is the same, as they are children of the great Protestant Reformation in Europe of the sixteenth century.

Getting Attention by Meriting It!

Folks who use GOOD PRINTING get the attention of the recipient. They deserve attention, because their obvious regard for the way they present their proposition is mighty good evidence that they have a proposition that DESERVES attention. Now that is just the way your printed matter will be received—for its face value. Good propositions are hid and lost sight of under the garb of poor printing; but are immediately recognized and accepted as GOOD if clothed in the "sparkle" of "GOOD PRINTING." # NOT ALARMING, SO WILSON SAYS OF JAP QUESTION

Discussion of California Alien Land Law by Japan and United States on Friendly Lines.

NOTHING AGGRESSIVE IN JAPANESE PROTEST

President Wilson Believes the Question Can Be Settled by Diplomacy if California Will Only Delay Action.

Washington, May 12.—The administration tonight was awaiting a reply either by message or by action from Governor Johnson to Secretary Bryan's telegram of last night requesting that he veto the alien land-owning bill passed by the California legislature and give the state department an opportunity to deal diplomatically with the problems involved.

In some quarters it had been expected that the text of the Japanese protest would be given publicity today, but apparently the officials concluded that full publicity at this stage would only embarrass the negotiations. Therefore the state department declined to make any statement as to the precise nature of the Japanese communication and the secretary, in answer to inquiry on that point, simply pointed to his own message of last night in which he referred to the Japanese communication as "a very earnest protest."

Whether the protest went outside of the treaty and claimed a violation of the principles of international law in discrimination against the Japanese, or was an allegation that the spirit if not the letter of the treaty had been infringed by the California legislation, the secretary would not say. In fact, he had not deemed it expedient to acquaint even Governor Johnson with the details of the communication.

Secretary Bryan let it be known that if legislation in California is postponed the state department will undertake to deal diplomatically with the Japanese government regarding the whole subject of alien land ownership as affecting Japanese in America. Meanwhile he declines to indicate the course that will be followed by the department in the event that his appeal is disregarded by the California executive.

Nothin Alarming, Says Wilson.

President Wilson believes negotiations between Japan and the United States over the alien land legislation in legislature are not in an alarming stage, but that the interchange of views thus far have been along frank and friendly lines calculated to remove the appearance of discrimination against Japan subjects.

The president, discussing the subject informally today, took the position that the Webb bill would not violate the treaty between Japan and the United States. He intimated that Japan's protest was not founded upon a claim that the treaty would be broken in any way, but upon the feeling that there was an effort to discriminate against Japanese on the ground of their alleged ineligibility to citizenship.

The president revealed that the question of naturalization had not yet entered into the discussion with the Japanese ambassador, but that, of course, underlying the bill, it was realized that federal courts had not finally passed upon the question of legislation.

It was upon the basis that Japanese were not accorded the privileges of citizenship that the appearance of discrimination written in the bill had arisen, and it was intimated at the white house that for the present the hope was that the legislation in California either would be vetoed by Governor Johnson, or delayed by a referendum to permit smoothing over some features of the situation.

Japan Not Aggressive.

President Wilson endeavored to make it plain that the greatest frankness had prevailed between the two governments even to the abandonment of many diplomatic formalities.

The conferences thus far between Secretary Bryan or President Wilson and the Japanese ambassador were described as being those of "one gentleman to another."

Intimations that the Japanese protest itself was couched neither in vigorous nor aggressive language, but was formal and friendly in character, came from the president himself during his talk today and it was pointed out that the phrase "a very earnest protest" employed by Secretary Bryan in his message to Governor Johnson was the description of the note which the American government had entertained rather than the emphasis of the Japanese ambassador.

The president was disposed to talk freely of the subject and appeared confident that a satisfactory adjustment could be accomplished.

Representative Kohn, of California, conferred with Secretary Bryan today and intimated he was seeking information relative to laws in other countries barring the Japanese and other aliens from owning land.

"There is no doubt about California's right to enact the alien land law," said Representative Kohn, "but I have nothing to say about the expediency of placing such a law on the statute books at this time."

GOV. JOHNSON IN NO HURRY TO ANSWER WILSON MESSAGE.

Sacramento, Cal., May 12.—Governor Johnson has not yet replied to the message of President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan, asking that he veto the Webb anti-alien land bill.

The governor has until June 16 to sign the measure and, therefore, there is no need of haste in answering the president except to acknowledge the receipt of his telegram.

It was understood at the capitol today that the chief executive was so busy with details incidental to adjournment of the legislature that he had decided to postpone taking up the new angle of the anti-alien issue.

"HAIR TRIGGER" RULE DENOUNCED BY TAFT

Ex-President Tells Students of Yale That Sort of Government Roosevelt Favors.

New Haven, Conn., May 12.—In his fourth lecture on "Some Questions of Modern Government," at Yale today, Professor William H. Taft, characterized the form of government advocated by the progressives as "hair trigger" and "leading to anarchy and a despotism of the majority." Professor Taft's statements were made in connection with his discussion of the recall of legislative and administrative officers. He promised to discuss the recall of the judicial decisions, which embodies the recall of judges, at a later date.

"The objection to the recall is not that it takes away the office from the official," he said, "but that it is an obstacle to the efficiency of government. Men do not administer government fearlessly, under government of which the recall is a part, but administer it so their enemies may have no opportunity to make malicious attacks upon them. Government is for the purpose of accomplishing something. Had men like Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and Madison served under the recall they would probably all have been recalled. Time has since said of them, 'well done, thou good and faithful servant.'

"Such hair trigger methods of government are said to be progressive. They are not. Instead this is retrogression; it is going backward; it is adopting a feature of government rejected years ago.

"Leaders of this movement dwell upon the statement that the people have been seized with an almost religious zeal for cleanness of government. Aspiration for better things ought to be ridiculed by no one, but has sin left us? Are we not all subject to the same weakness that have been recognized for 6,000 years?

"Is there not in every line of the campaign speeches, platforms and utterances of the men of the new school the assumption that they have discharged all of their duty and that their sole field for action in the matter is one of brotherly love?

"The sole thought in all is socialistic—the idea to make the rich poorer and the poor rich—a leveling of property holdings. Ultimately this fact will be known."

STATE SCORES A POINT IN GEORGIA ROAD CASE

United States Supreme Court Will Review Decision Sustaining Tax Exemption.

Washington, May 12.—Attorney General Felder, of Georgia, today procured from the supreme court an order for the fifth United States circuit court of appeals to send up for review its decision that the Louisville and Nashville railroad company and the Atlantic Coast Line railroad company were not to be taxed upon property leased for ninety-nine years from the Georgia railroad. The granting of the order was a point for the state.

RAILROADS WILL ASK FOR RAISE IN RATES

Washington, May 12.—A conference between the Inter-State Commerce commission and representatives of the eastern railroads will be held here Wednesday morning to consider informally a proposed advance of 5 per cent in freight rates. It has been suggested that the advance will be uniform throughout what is known as eastern territory—that part of the country lying east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio river.

Announcement was made recently by President Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio, that application would be made to the commission by the fifty-two eastern railroads for permission to increase their freight rates five per cent. Precisely the form the application, if made, may take, has not been determined. That question probably will be settled at Wednesday's conference.

If it should be found by the commission that there is prima facie reason for a consideration of the application, it is likely an order for an inquiry may be issued. That method would save the railroads the great expense of preparing and issuing new tariffs, an expense that would aggregate nearly a quarter of a million dollars. Of course, if such tariffs were filed, they would be suspended by the commission, pending an investigation of the reasonableness of the proposed advances, but it is not regarded as necessary in this instance to file tariffs in order to get the question before the commission.

If the commission should conclude to have public hearings on the application, the probability is that the proceedings would not be held before next autumn.

SOUTHERN WATERS DRAWING CAPITAL

Biggest Industrial Development Is Utilization of the Rivers to Create Power. Final Outlay $300,000,000.

Nashville, Tenn., May 12.—(Special.) In an interview here today Richard H. Edmonds, editor of The Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, said:

"The biggest industrial movement under way in the south today representing more power and on broader lines of development than anything else is the utilization of our heretofore unutilized rivers and streams for the creation of hydro-electric power.

"At present time sixty-four hydro-electric power companies are operating in the development of powers in the south, and mainly in the central section—the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Kentucky and Tennessee—though nearly all the south is sharing in this activity. These companies already have in operation about 1,200,000 hydro-electric power and are now actually constructing about 800,000 additional power, which will give the south over 2,000,000 hydro-electric power when these plants under construction and others, for which the capital has been raised, have been completed.

Final Outlay of $300,000,000.

"There are also thirty-six companies, owning about 1,000,000 available power, now in the preliminary stage, and these are seeking to enlist capital for development. The magnitude of these developments can be the better appreciated when it is understood that the total steam power used in all the manufacturing enterprises in the south in 1910 aggregated about 3,300,000-horse power.

"The aggregate investment in the developed water power, and in those upon which work is now progressing, will represent an ultimate outlay of about $300,000,000, which is equal to nearly one-third of the aggregate national banking capital of the United States. Nowhere else in the world is the development of water power for the transmission of electric power being carried on on such a gigantic scale and involving such far-reaching consequences as in the south.

"Many of the foremost capitalists of England, Canada and of the north and west are really running rivalry in securing water powers, not only for immediate development, but looking to continued constructive operations as the demand for power takes up the supply of the existing plants.

"There are two features of this development of the utmost importance. In the first place, cheap electric power, available at every moment, night and day, will prove an enormous advantage to the existing industrial establishment; will quicken their activities and stimulate them to broader development.

Great Capitalists Interested.

"And an even more important feature will be the fact that the great capitalists of Europe, Canada and the north and west, who are putting these hundreds of millions of new capital into the creation of hydro-electric power, will necessarily be compelled to take a very active part in the creation of industries to use the power which they are so developing.

"The banking houses which are backing these hydro-electric powers cannot sit down and wait for the growth of the south to take care of the power created, but they must themselves become the most active factors in creating in the south new industries to use these powers.

"Every dollar which these banking houses have staked in this hydro-electric work will ultimately be asked for another dollar from them for investment in other enterprises. With $300,000,000 being put into the one particular line of southern development, these bankers and all their clients become immediately and deeply interested in everything which make for the broadest development of every phase of southern resources, industrial and agricultural alike."

FREE PANAMA TOLLS OPPOSED BY M'LENDON

Tallahassee, Fla., May 12.—Addressing the Florida legislature tonight upon the "Panama Canal and Its Effect on Domestic and Foreign Commerce," S. G. McLendon, former Georgia railroad commissioner, opposed free tolls for American vessels. Judge Samuel Jones, Panama exposition commissioner, also spoke, urging an appropriation for a Florida exhibit.

ROOSEVELT RALLIES TO AID OF GOV. SULZER

Colonel to Fight for Direct Primaries—He Raps Barnes and Murphy.

New York, May 12.—A dollar dinner, given tonight by the New York county committee of the national progressive party and designated as a "conference," resolved itself into a discussion by the speakers of political issues. A letter from Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who could not attend, was read, in which he indorsed the direct primary bill advocated by Governor Sulzer.

Among those present was John Purroy Mitchel, recently appointed collector of the port of New York by President Wilson. The speakers discussed the coming municipal campaign, the general trend of their remarks opposing fusion with any other party.

Colonel Roosevelt's letter follows, in part: "I wish I could be with the progressives of New York county at their dinner. As that is impossible, let me send my hearty greetings and call attention to the battle which is at this moment being waged in this state for a thorough-going and effective direct primary bill. While I think the progressive bill was the best bill introduced, I nevertheless most cordially back the bill urged by Governor Sulzer, for that bill means a substantial measure of positive gain; and the envenomed opposition of both the Murphy and Barnes machines to it is, of itself, sufficient proof that it is emphatically in the interest of the people as a whole.

"Really at present there are not three party organizations. There are but two, the parties of progress, and against it. This party of reaction is organized in two divisions, called republican and democratic. Nothing pleases the representatives of privilege so much as a mock fight between the two old parties, and that is all that the fighting between them is. Whether Mr. Barnes is on top, or Mr. Murphy is on top, makes no difference; in either case privilege is enthroned. The bosses and the machines of the two old parties are engaged in the effort to keep the state government out of the hands of the people and under the bipartisan control of the old party bosses.

"I have been glad to support Governor Sulzer in this fight. It should be borne in mind by all voters that the men who are now in the legislature, both republican and democrats, were put there on their pledges that they would give a genuine direct primary bill; yet now each of the old parties has caucused in the legislature to defeat the solemn pledge in its pre-election platform. There can be no more flagrant type of political treachery and falsehood. I cannot believe that the people will submit to such action."

GOOD ROADS CAMPAIGN WINS ANOTHER SUCCESS

Washington, May 12—The good roads campaign met another success today when the house rules agreed to report for a good roads committee of 21 members, of which Representative Shackleford, of Missouri, is slated to be chairman. It also agreed in favor of a public health and quarantine committee of 15 members, probably to be headed by Representative Foster, of Illinois. Creation of the two additions to the legislative machinery of congress is in accord with the democratic platform.

STEEL TRUST PICTURED AS A GREAT DEVELOPER

Testifying in Government Case, Farrell Tells of Trust's Work in Foreign Lands.

New York, May 12.—The United States Steel corporation was pictured today by James A. Farrell, its president, as a combination organized not to suppress competitors, but to develop the sale of steel in foreign lands, a development which could not have been accomplished, he said, if the corporation had not taken the various companies competing for foreign business under its wing. He was testifying as the first witness for the defense in the government suit to dissolve the corporation as a combination in restraint of trade.

Mr. Farrell amazed his hearers by his intimate knowledge of affairs in remote parts of the world, and held them keenly interested as he narrated the story of his rise from a common laborer in a steel mill, at the age of 15, to be the head of the greatest industrial corporation in the world, at the age of 50.

The witness traced the growth of the steel corporation's export business from 282,000 tons, the first year it was organized, to 2,246,600 tons in 1912, and from $31,000,000 in value in 1904 to $82,000,000 in 1912, and said that efforts of the corporation to push its foreign trade had been "continuous and indefatigable." The result had been that 90 per cent of the country's foreign trade in steel was done by the corporation, he said.

After Foreign Trade.

"We have made the strongest efforts possible to increase our foreign trade, as compared with our domestic trade," Mr. Farrell declared. "Our competitors have only been concerned with foreign business when domestic trade has been insufficient to keep their capacity employed. We have kept after the foreign trade continuously. If we had not it would have been impossible to develop it."

Contradicting the testimony of William E. Corey, his predecessor as president of the corporation, that there had been "understandings" between the corporation and foreign manufacturers as to prices and a division of territory, Mr. Farrell said: "We have never operated under any pools or agreements with foreign manufacturers, either as to price or location. We have never entered into any contracts or agreements with foreign manufacturers to stay out of their market, provided they would stay out of ours."

He denied, also, that the corporation "made a practice" of selling its products lower abroad than in this country.

"In fact, some of our commodities are sold higher," he said.

Before the corporation was organized, the witness recited, seven steel companies were competing for foreign business. On being taken over, their foreign offices were combined under one office and their operations systematized. In 1904 the United States Steel Products company was organized to take charge of the foreign trade and push it. Exhaustive studies were made of foreign markets that business could be done according to the usages and requirements of each particular market and at "an enormous expense." The processes of manufacture at the mills of the corporation were adapted to meet the requirements.

From Iceland to Fiji Islands.

The corporation established agencies from "Iceland to the Fiji Islands," 268 in all, Mr. Farrell said, and as a result the export business of the subsidiaries had greatly increased. In the case of the Carnegie Steel company, it was to 24 per cent. of its whole production. A diversity of products enabled the corporation to meet all demands from bed springs to steel bridges. No single subsidiary with one or two products, he said, could have maintained these agencies on such an extensive scale. Mr. Farrell told of selling wire in Patagonia, rails in Formosa, steel bridges in Iceland and wire fencing in South Africa. Steamships had been bought or chartered to carry steel to points seldom touched on regular steamship routes, he added.

This foreign trade, he further explained, had been developed in the face of financial antagonism in Europe, preferential tariffs and local opposition. The city authorities of Manchester, England, had canceled a contract with the corporation for tramway rails in favor of local manufacturers, he said, although the bid of the steel corporation was the lowest.

Forty thousand men are employed by the corporation in manufacturing steel for export and 15,000 more in making the steel sold to manufacturers of goods sent abroad for sale, the latter amounting to $30,000,000.

"We do correspondence from our office in every language," said the witness. "We have to get the business. Our office is an encyclopedia for American manufacturers on trade conditions in foreign countries, and we often lend them our salesmen to do their business for them."

Mr. Farrell will continue his testimony tomorrow.

TEMPLARS GATHERING IN COLUMBUS TODAY

Street Parade Opens Convention. Grand Commandery Holds First Session.

Columbus, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Knights Templars from all sections of Georgia will arrive in the city Tuesday to attend the meeting of the grand commandery of the order on Wednesday and Thursday. There are over 3,000 Knights Templars in the state and between 300 and 400 will be in attendance.

St. Aldemar commandery, which will be the host on this occasion, held its final meeting tonight prior to the gathering, and put the finishing touches on the preparations for receiving and entertaining the visitors. George F. Walden, a prominent merchant, is emident commander of St. Aldemar commandery, and its membership embraces many of the leading business and professional men of the city.

Atlanta, Savannah, Macon and the other larger cities of the state will be particularly well represented at the convention.

The occasion will open with a great and spectacular street parade, after which the grand commandery will retire to its quarters in the Masonic temple and go into session.

CRUSHED UNDER CAR, SWITCHMAN MAY DIE

Savannah, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—David Henderson was fatally injured today in the Seaboard Air Line terminals when he went in between two box cars to break a coupling.

Just as he stepped across the rails to the inside of the track a switchman working further up the line signalled for the engine to go ahead, the coupling had not been broken and when the train jerked, Henderson was knocked to the ground and the wheels of the forward truck of one of the cars passed over his legs just below the thighs.

Henderson has a wife and several small children.

Congressman Adamson Offers Naval Academy Appointment To Boy of the Fourth District

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 12.—(Special.)—Congressman W. C. Adamson, of the fourth Georgia district, wants his constituents to know that there is a vacancy in the Naval academy at Annapolis, at that district, and that unless it is filled by the 1st of July the appointment will lapse.

He asks The Constitution to say that there will be another examination on June 5, and that if any boy in the fourth district, intellectually and physically equipped and between the ages of 16 and 20, would like to apply for this appointment by standing examination at this time, he will take pleasure in giving full particulars upon hearing from any applicant from his district.

BUILDERS' SUPPLIES MADE IN AMERICUS

Americus, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Finishing touches are being placed tonight upon the extensive plant of the Southern Art Metal company, an Americus enterprise for the manufacture of builders' supplies, and representing an investment of $50,000.

The plant is the only one of its kind in Georgia manufacturing builders' supplies entirely of metal, and is expected to prove successful. The factory will start up tomorrow, employing a large working force of skilled artisans.

MISS HUGHES CHOSEN AS CORDELE SPONSOR

Cordele, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Miss Margaret Hughes has been appointed sponsor for the Crisp County camp, No. 1814, U. C. V., for the reunion in Chattanooga this summer. There will be a large delegation from this camp, and the local Sons of Veterans and others will attend the reunion.

It will likely be arranged for Cordele, Fitzgerald and Ashburn camps to consolidate their parties and get a special Pullman coach.

U. C. V. Will Give Dance.

The Joseph E. Brown camp, 1776, United Confederate Veterans, ball tomorrow night on the Atlanta Owls' roof garden promises to be one of the most entertaining social events conducted by that camp. The Owls have a number of confederate veterans on their roster, and every one has been diligent in bringing about a large attendance to the benefit ball tomorrow night.

Americus Schools to Close.

Americus, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—The Americus public schools, with nearly eighteen hundred pupils in attendance, are preparing to close, the high school having its graduation exercises Friday night next, with a class of eighteen graduates. The grammar schools will close one week later.

The Third District Agricultural college will end the spring session this week, with commencement exercises next Monday.

Judgment Against Railroad.

In the United States district court yesterday, Judge Newman, presiding, judgment was given against the Louisville and Nashville and the Atlantic Coast Line railway for violation of the safety employees' act in nineteen counts enumerated in a bill of complaint filed by the district attorney. The decree gave a verdict of $50 in each of the nineteen counts against the defendant companies.

Zebulon Revival Closes.

Zebulon, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—week at the Methodist church came to a close last night. Rev. Charles Lane, of Macon, did the preaching, and the services were interesting and impressive from beginning to close. The influence of the meeting has been felt throughout the town and community. Several applicants were received into the church as a result of the meeting.

BIBB COUNTY FARMERS TO STUDY FARMING

Special Train Will Bear Over 350 of Them to Experiment Station in June.

Macon, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Plans are being made for between three and five hundred farmers from middle Georgia to visit the experiment station at Experiment, Ga., June 14. The idea originated with the Bibb county agricultural institute, it being planned to run a special train from Macon carrying one hundred and fifty members of the institute.

When the news of the proposed trip got out, farmers in Jones and Houston counties asked to be permitted to join with those in Bibb and visit the station at the same time and it is expected that one hundred farmers from both Jones and Houston will accompany the party.

The crops at the Experiment farm are at their best during the month of June and it is believed that the trip will result in more benefit to the farmers by reason of the fact that they will come directly in touch with the methods used at the farm than through any other method of instruction they could receive.

Will Re-Elect Dargan.

Macon, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—When the Southern Baptist convention meets in St. Louis May 16, it is expected that Dr. E. C. Dargan, pastor of the First Baptist church of Macon, will for the third time be re-elected president of the convention. Dr. Dargan, Rev. R. C. Granberry, pastor of the Tattnall Square Baptist church, and Dr. John E. White, pastor of the Vineville Avenue Baptist church, left today for St. Louis to attend the convention.

Washington Gets $26,500.

Macon, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—H. J. Lamar Washington, of New York, will receive $26,500 as his share of the estate of his uncle, the late Henry J. Lamar, Jr., in settlement of his suit against the executors of the estate, Mrs. Julia Lamar and Henry J. Lamar.

WOULD-BE JACK TARS GREET HEAD OF NAVY

Savannah, Ga., May 12.—One of the most interesting points near Savannah visited by Secretary of the Navy Daniels, when he was here yesterday, was the Bethesda Orphans' Home for Boys.

"Boys," said the secretary, "how would you like, when you grow up, to enlist in the navy?"

"All right!" shouted the boys. "It would suit us fine."

One little fellow cried out: "But how about the Japs?"

"Are you afraid of the Japs?" inquired the secretary with considerable interest.

"No," yelled out the juvenile chorus of patriotic young Americans.

"That's right," answered the secretary, "be good Americans at all times."

MRS. A. C. REYNOLDS DIES IN MARIETTA

The death of Mrs. A. C. Reynolds, widow of Dr. Reynolds, occurred yesterday morning at Marietta, at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Reynolds was 45 years of age, and a prominent church worker, having been a member of the Methodist church since childhood. She was devoted to her family and a large number of friends mourn her death.

She is survived by two grandchildren, Dr. Herbert L. Reynolds, of Atlanta, and B. C. McClatchey, assistant clerk of the Georgia legislature, and several children, Mrs. Charles H. Guyton, Mrs. J. H. Murray, Miss Gussie Mae Reynolds, Dr. A. Reynolds, Walter Reynolds, of Marietta.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Methodist church, Marietta, the services being conducted by Dr. Duvall and Dr. J. H. Patton.

Tomorrow Brings One of Our Notable Twice-a-Year Events—The Semi-Annual

Half-Price Millinery Sale

Maybe you have been awaiting this event---well you might. It is the "Grand Prix" of all millinery sales.

Nothing Atlanta knows approximates it. The hats it offers are those accepted as fashionable this season, correct, smart in unusual ways. The greater part--about all of them--comes from the little shop, Estelle Mershon, in the very center of fastidious New York, 20 E. 46th St.

Included are

Street, Traveling and Dress Hats Until Now $12.00 to $30.00

Now $6.00 to $15.00

Some one hundred fifty in all---no describing them---but so varied are the shapes and trimmings that it will be like choosing from regular stock and paying just half.

Is the first spring hat beginning to look a little faded, are you going away this summer, does a newly acquired suit or dress call for a hat to match?

Here are splendid affirmative answers for these questions.

THE COLLEGE AND THE PRESS.

Yesterday was "first day on the job" for the class of quick-witted young men who have for the past year been studying journalism at Emory college under the direction of Dr. Wightman F. Melton. Elsewhere is told in detail the story of the invasion of The Constitution by the journalistic students of the college. Emory is the only institution in the state maintaining a chair of journalism. Dr. Melton, in charge of the department, felt that his pupils would gain vast benefit by rounding out their study of theory with a chapter in actual practice. His first idea was that this practice should be obtained by watching the processes of issuing a typical twentieth century newspaper and he applied to The Constitution for that privilege. Knowing the divergence between theory and practice and that the best way to learn was in "doing it one's self" The Constitution suggested that the college journalists themselves go through the experience of getting out the paper for one day.

In pursuance of that suggestion Emory's class in journalism yesterday assumed charge of all the news departments of this paper. Boys who, throughout the scholastic year, had drilled into their heads just what is news and the various values of news, came in contact with that baffling commodity at first hand. The day's doings of a big city, in unending intricacy, unwound before them. History-in-the-making in all parts of the world trickled under their fingers. They helped experts who, with trained eye, passed on myriad happenings at top-speed. They wrote news themselves and had men who knew tell them when their treatment was right and when wrong, and why. They were warned against certain omissions and commissions, commended when they struck the right gait, corrected when on a false lead. In other words, they were like young students who had stepped straight from the law school into court; or like the medical student, sheep-skin in hand, called to treat his first patient. Just as the embryo lawyer and doctor, however well schooled, would find the philosophy of the text book vastly different from the philosophy of the event itself, the Emory journalists in the making made their discoveries yesterday and profited by them.

Every emergency these boys met with a splendid spirit and enthusiasm. They prove the intelligent care of Dr. Melton. The whole day proved the soundness of his belief that practice must be relied upon to perfect theory. And the paper which greets the public today—being an Emory production—proves that college journalism is a feasible reality and that the press has much to gain from the specialized candidate just as has the law, medicine or any other profession. These boys will return to the school room, as The Constitution knew they would return, with a working grasp of journalism which may influence many high careers in that exacting calling.

SIGNIFICANT.

Press dispatches affirm that a recent conference at Chicago looked to the end of reorganizing "the republican party." Judging from the personnel of those in attendance the "insurgent" element of the party has already captured the organization, bag and baggage. Senator Albert Cummins, one of the original "progressives," was a leading spirit in the conference. Borah, another foe of the standpatters, aided him. And Gronna and ex-Governor Hadley, of Missouri, personal representatives of Roosevelt in the latest convention fight, were exceedingly active.

We did not observe that either Messrs. Lodge or Root, or even Smoot, were present. In fact, none of the old guard were conspicuous, save by their absence. All that was needed to give the gathering the appearance of a first-class, back-to-Armageddon atmosphere was the presence of the colonel himself.

If these estimable gentlemen call themselves the republican party, what becomes of the other no-less estimable gentlemen who last year nominated Mr. Taft? We foresee either an absorption of the fragments by the Roosevelt wing or a lively fracas over the patent-rights to the title which for fifty years served a militant and now decadent party.

ANOTHER SOB ARTIST.

Even the gay and capering Life, the national humorous weekly, has fallen under the melancholy sway of the sob-artists. Witness the following extract from a recent issue in which Life refers to the famous Ollie Taylor case under the sarcastic caption, "Progress in Georgia:"

> Down in Georgia a 10-year-old boy has been sent to prison for eleven years for stealing a five-cent bottle of soda water, and the sentence has been solemnly confirmed by the Georgia supreme court. Georgia is entitled to great credit for this, for there is more in it than the mere upholding of the sacred majesty and benignity of the law or the protection of property rights. Georgia has been much criticised for the great numbers of child laborers within her borders and, of course, even in the most marble-hearted of us, there still lingers a slight embarrassment when we set out to justify child labor. Here, however, is a chance to preserve child labor and to punish horrible offenders at one fell stroke. Under the supreme court decision there is no reason why there should ever more be a shortage of child labor in Georgia. It is the simplest thing in the world to induce a child to steal a little something. Then you have him and for as long as necessary.

The only trouble with Life's touching little effort is that it has absolutely no foundation in fact. The Constitution several weeks ago exposed the fallacy in the wild and maudlin stories about Ollie Taylor. The theft of the bottle of soda is merely one incident in his career. Upon numberless occasions he had shown himself incorrigible and entirely beyond the control of his relatives. His only contact with the courts is that they have, quite mercifully, given him an indeterminate sentence in the state reformatory, one of the best institutions of that kind in the south, conducted by one of the most humane experts in the country. He will be released on parole the moment his conduct gives evidence of justifying that step.

What the Georgia courts have done for Ollie Taylor is, in all probability, to save him from a life of crime and to transform him into a good citizen. Had not the state intervened there is every reason to believe this boy would have ended his days in the penitentiary.

The incident, though, is typical material for the sob-squadders and throughout the country they grasped eagerly at and distorted it. Even the federal government was impressed and sent a representative to Atlanta to investigate. At the conclusion of the investigation, the results of which were published in The Constitution and sent out by the Associated Press, this government representative reported that the melodramatic stories about Ollie Taylor were wholly untrue. The facts were set forth substantially as told in preceding paragraphs.

But what is all that to the sob-squad? Nothing! Here was an opportunity to wring tears by the bucketful. D—n facts! Life's sob-artist knew that a quick—if rather a crude—way to the reader was via his lachrymal glands. What mattered it if the civilization of an entire state was indicted? The tear-squeezer must be given right-of-way! That is simply an illustration of what the sob-habit will do to an otherwise sane and refreshing publication.

The one consolation is that the country is getting on to the sob-specialists. Their steady, monotonous and doleful chorus daily wins less attention and—fewer tears. The nation refuses to view life through artificial moisture and bids the professional sobsters chase themselves or take a pill. This business of luring people into arriving at important verdicts by emotion rather than the truth is becoming unpopular. In the meantime, the sob artists are tearing down reputation and ignoring good name—all for the sake of a little maudlin and quickly-passing applause.

And, in the name of the Great Horn Spoon, can't the Tear-trust find some state other than Georgia with which to lacerate the nation's emotions? It seems the entire energies of the weep-brigade are centered on Georgia. Several times recently in quick succession this state has been placarded as the scene of outrages that never occurred, but that sufficed to get sobs from the susceptible of the nation under false pretenses. We protest! We protest against the libelling and against the silly, sickening sentimentality!

Let the sob-artists find some spot other than Georgia over which to weep before the nation. Surely, in the other forty-odd states and in the far corners of the earth, is enough material for fake gloom, without centering the woes of the universe in this healthy and happy commonwealth!

To Frank L. Stanton.

Frank Stanton, these, my fledglings,
Can only chirp the song
That they have caught from Heaven's Gate
Where you have sung so long.

On Jordan's stormy bank we'll stand,
And cast a wistful eye.
Until we find where Stanton sings
In woodlands of the sky.

Then, straight across the swelling flood,
With fearless wing and strong,
We'll take our hallelujah way
To join in Stanton's song.

—W. F. MELTON.

Fishin' Time in Georgia.

When the world is gay with flowers and the meadow's fresh and green;
When a million buds and bowers crown their Honey Suckle Queen;
When the sun is just a beamin' benedictions through the trees,
And the woodland goes to dreamin' to the music of the bees;
When that lazy, dazy feelin' takes a fellow by the spine
Oh, it's fishin' time in Georgia, bait your hook and fling your line!

Yes, it's fishin' time in Georgia—you can tell it as a rule,
When the children disobey you and refuse the public school;
You can tell it by the swingin' of the blossom-laden brush;
You can tell it by the singin' of the mockin'-bird and thrush;
They all know it—you know it—and you're feelin' simply fine;
For it's fishin' time in Georgia, bait your hook and fling your line.

—TOM BURNSIDE.

Yellow Jasmine.

Now the Winter's winds are sleeping,
And the Southern breeze is sweeping
Thru the woods where buds are peeping
Forth, their garlands to entwine
And the air is sweet and mellow
From the honey combs of yellow
Flaunted by the yellow jasmine,
High upon the verdant vine.

Golden flowers, born of showers,
With such charm and magic powers,
How you scatter bliss and comfort
Thru the land of Georgia pine,
For our hearts with joy are bounding,
When the call of Spring is sounding
From the golden little trumpets
Of the yellow jasmine vine.

—TOM BURNSIDE.

Anticipation.

If I could sail on tireless wing
Above this earthly shore
And to the wondrous cloudland cling,
I then should ask no more
But that the potencies of Fate,
All merciful to me,
Would let my eyes see through the gate
Of my eternity.

—RICHARD J. BROYLES.

A Dirge.

I held within my hand a withered rose,
All crushed and slain.
And as I blew upon its petals torn
A sweet refrain
Alone came to my sympathetic heart.
It was a song
Like that the drooping swan when dying sings—
So soft and long.
It seemed an echo from some foreign shore
Where lilies blow
And fragrant, blushing roses never die.
So sweet and low
It wafted from the sunset hills afar
I thought it some
Quaint dirge as through the air the rose's soul
Was flying home.

RICHARD J. BROYLES.

The Higher Call.

"Lead, Kindly Light," the poet wrote,
Himself uncircled by the night;
But who will show the way remote
To those who have not found the Light?

The sacred Star of Bethlehem
Is shining yet for all mankind;
But who will say, "Behold the Lamb!"
Or strive a straying soul to find?

Can one bow down at Faith's pure shrine,
Content to find the way he must,
And yet not heed the task divine
Of lifting others from the dust?

The Modest Violet

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

At this time of the year the modest violet is being eulogized by a thousand poets and is being held up to mankind as an example by earnest teachers on every hand.

The modest violet is a short, squat plant which gets out fairly early in the spring and grows to the dizzy height of two inches or more after severe effort. After it has finished its attempt at skyscraping, it produces a number of beautiful blue blossoms which it usually hides under its leaves. It is about the most modest thing in the world except the statesman who has just acquired a $1,000 bill, and who would rather die than brag about it.

After the violet has blossomed it does not advertise her beat a drum but continues to bloom in a quiet, dignified way, offering itself to the world with all the indifference with which a country grocer sells dried apples. Most of the violets in the world are eaten by cows, but sometimes the beautiful flowers are discovered by man, and he induces the plants to go into a green house and bloom in a businesslike and regular manner.

The hothouse violets are more beautiful than the country violets, and are probably just as modest, but not as far as price goes. Along about Christmas time modesty comes, about $3 per bunch, and small bunches at that.

This teaches us a great lesson. Modesty is beautiful and does not harm anyone, providing he or she employs a good business manager.

Many an actress is so modest that she employs two stout men to chase admirers away from her private car and three press agents to see that the newspapers get the names of the admirers.

The most successful politician is the man who declines to become a candidate for public honors until his campaign manager has perfected the irresistible demand of the people.

All violets are modest, but the ones which get the credit are the ones which hide themselves where they can be discovered in all their shyness.

Salutatory and Valedictory.

Not many editors have to say "Howdy-do" and "Goodby" in the same breath. The experience is novel.

If our part of today's Constitution is a success it is so because the good people in The Constitution building helped us over the hard places. If our part is a failure, it is so because we did not know how to be helped over the hard places.

One thing is certain: We have learned more about practical journalism, in these few hours, than we have learned, or could learn, in as many months, or years, from books alone.

On one point the Sunday Constitution is mistaken: I am not a "veteran journalist." College professors, for whom pensions are not provided, never grow old.

Fifty years from now, some member of this class will say to his grandchild, "Yes, honey, your grandmother and I were married just one year from the day we brought out The Atlanta Constitution."

Good by. Come to see us.

W. F. MELTON, Ph. D.
Chair of Journalism, Emory College.

ENJOYING THINGS.

Nath Thompson, a north Georgia circuit rider, says it is funny how the last persimmon on the tree tastes better than any of the rest.

"Uncle Nath" used to travel over the mountains alone, much of the time, and on horseback, going from settlement to settlement, and from church to church.

This good parson is a possum about persimmons. After the frost sweetens the fruit he is at home in the woods.

One day, when winter was far gone, "Uncle Nath" chanced to see, on the topmost twig of a tall sapling, entirely bare of leaves, a single huge persimmon. He may have thought to himself,

And if I should live to be
The last persimmon on the tree!

What he actually did, however, was to dismount, hitch his nag to a swinging limb, heap some pine "straw" under the sapling, and shake down the persimmon. He did not want the only persimmon left in Georgia to "squash" or get trash upon it.

Down came the big persimmon, and "Uncle Nath," having thought—if he did not say—grace over it, went to work on it. His pleasure may beat be expressed in his own words: "I am telling you right now, folks, it certainly was good!"

Sidney Lanier speaks of a bird, the little Shakespeare of the tree, transforming a grub worm into song. "Uncle Nath's" persimmon transformed him into a sage and a philosopher. It caused him to say, "Lord, help me to enjoy everything in this world just as if it were the last, and as if there were to be no more like it."

The good man decided, then and there, to begin enjoying life in earnest. He did, and he says he has been having a good time ever since. And, what is more, he finds that the times are getting better.

A poor boy says, "When the molasses gets low in the pitcher, it is much sweeter than it was when the jug was full." "Uncle Nath" would first practice, then preach: "Enjoy every drop in the jug just as if it were the last drop in the pitcher, and as if there would never be any more molasses in the world."

Before the civil war, an owner of negro slaves, in Louisiana, had, on his place, a small negro boy with a "sweet tooth"—he could never get enough sugar. Finally, one day, the planter made the little negro wash his feet perfectly clean, and then had an older negro place the little one in a barrel about half full of brown sugar. The little negro was told to help himself to just as much as he wanted, if it took all in the barrel. He went at it like fighting fire, but in a few minutes quit. Being urged to eat more, little Ham exclaimed, "Massa, it am done los' its tas'e!"

"Uncle Nath" would say: "Don't be a pig, even about sweet things. Go slow. Then, every grain in the barrel will taste as sweet as the first one did."

Any persimmon may be a man's last, and all of them may taste as good as the last one. Any person, little negro or big white man, can get too much sugar.

Moderation in the use of the best things of life, and gratitude to the Maker of all good things, will make "Uncle Nath's" of us all—will teach us the happy art of ENJOYING THINGS.

PROF. MELTON'S OPINION OF A STANTON POEM

For more than twenty years I have read poetry, studied poetry, taught poetry and loved poetry. It is my deliberate opinion that no American poet has surpassed the beauty of Frank L. Stanton's "Just A-Wearyin' for You." It is well worthy of a place beside the "Home, Sweet Home" of John Howard Payne. Without the knowledge or consent of Mr. Stanton, I take the liberty of reproducing the poem, just as it originally appeared in The Constitution, where I first saw it, over twenty years ago.

Just A-Wearyin' for You.

Just a-wearyin' for you,
All the time a-feelin' blue,
Wishin' for you, wonderin' when
You'll be comin' home again.
Restless, don't know what to do,
Just a-wearyin' for you.

Keep a-mopin' day by day:
Dull—in everybody's way;
Folks they smile and pass along,
Wonderin' what on earth is wrong;
'Twouldn't help 'em if they knew—
Just a-wearyin' for you!

Room's so lonesome, with your chair
Empty by the fireplace there.
Just can't stand the sight of it;
Go out doors and roam a bit:
But the woods is lonesome, too,
Just a-wearyin' for you.

Comes the wind with sound that's jes'
Like the rustlin' o' your dress;
An' the dew on flower an' tree
Twinkles like your steps to me;
Violets, like your eyes so blue—
Just a-wearyin' for you!

Mornin' comes, the birds awake—
Used to sing so for your sake;
But there's sadness in the notes
That come trillin' from their throats:
Seem to feel your absence, too—
Just a-wearyin' for you!

Evenin' comes, I miss you more
When the dark glooms round the door;
Seems just like you orter be
There to open it for me.
Lateh goes tinklin', thrills me through,
Seta me wearyin' for you.

Just a-wearyin' for you,
All the time a-feelin' blue,
Wishin' for you, wonderin' when
You'll be comin' home again.
Restless, don't know what to do,
Just a-wearyin' for you.

Teaching Journalism.

The best place in which to learn the newspaper business is the newspaper office. The best place in which to learn the elementary things, preparatory to journalistic work, is in college. A department of journalism, in a college remote from news-gathering and news-publishing centers, cannot hope to do more than give a little training in theory.

An ideal school of journalism would be an institution in which are combined class rooms for instruction in language, history, logic, psychology, economics, sociology, mathematics, etc., and a live, up-to-date newspaper plant, where theories could be tried out and put into practice. Such a school of journalism will yet be established.

Next to the ideal school of journalism would be a correlation of such a college with a progressive newspaper plant.

At Emory we do not claim to have a distinct department of journalism. Realising that professional training is as necessary for the journalist as for the lawyer, the doctor, the teacher, the minister, the rural economist and the dairyman, we began, two years ago, to give instruction in journalism. The time we have been able to devote to the work amounts to only about one-third of a regular course. The first year there were twelve men in the class. This year there are twenty-eight. A number of inquiries came, last summer, from young men in Georgia, Alabama and Florida, wanting a full course in journalism. We could do no more than offer them what we have, and then cite them to the University of Missouri and the Pulitzer school of Columbia university.

Emory college is justly proud of her splendid record in preparing men for the professions of teaching, the ministry, law, medicine, etc. The real importance of journalistic training becomes apparent, however, when we consider that two or three Emory journalists may have larger audiences seven days in the week, than the combined audiences of all the other Emory men in all the other professions.

Some of these days, Emory may be able to establish a full department of journalism. If she will then equip a print shop from which all the publications of the college can be issued, she can then do a class of work that will be highly practical as well as simply theoretical.

The thirst for information is now universal. Emory desires to do her part in training men to tell things tersely and accurately, to explain what it all means, and to be leaders in developing proper opinion pertaining to the many problems which affect all the people.

For any institution to be great and prosperous, nowadays, extensive and judicious advertising is an absolute necessity. A department of publicity, such as a school of journalism, is a splendid advertising medium—in addition to preparing men for one of the most important professions of modern times.

The opportunity we have had, today, to advertise Emory college can scarcely be estimated in dollars and cents. A conservative business man, in no way connected with either The Constitution or the college, puts it at $5,000. It has cost us only gratitude to the generous journalist, Editor-in-chief of The Constitution, Clark Howell.

THE JOURNALIST.

A little while ago (Friday evening, July 28, 1912) Lord Morley, presiding at a complimentary dinner given to Sir Edward Cook, the newspaper man, who had just received the honor of knighthood, said, "No one who knows anything at all about it would deny that the editor of a seriously conducted paper is as patient and as accurate, as laborious, as much in earnest and as sincere as if he were the parliamentary head of a department of state."

There was a time when, for purposes of convenience, we spoke of the secular editor and the religious editor, meaning to differentiate between the editors of religious and irreligious (not unreligious) newspapers. That time has not entirely passed away; but, today, the editor, whose avowed motive is religious, gives the "secular" news, and the editor, whose avowed motive is "secular," gives the religious news. It has come to pass that the work of the "secular" editor is quoted freely by the religious editor, with favorable comment, and that the work of the religious editor is quoted freely by the "secular" editor, with favorable comment.

Because religion, of one type or another, is the essential element in the hearts of all people, and is expressed in store, shop, counting house, courtroom, on the farm, at the throttle, and in the newspaper office, as well as at the sacred altar, or in the sacred desk, no editor can be "secular."

There is a difference between profanity and secularity. A profane journalist is a possibility. Such a man is immoral and unreligious.

The three chief public duties of the modern journalist are: (1) to tell what the world is doing; (2) to explain what the world is thinking; (3) to mould opinion as to what the world ought to do and think.

The difference between the historian, of fifty years ago, and the journalist of today, is: The historian was an old journalist, and the modern newspaper man is a current historian, going into details. We see God in the historian, man in the journalist.

Fifty years from now, the historian, looking over the newspaper files of 1913, will discover, in those frayed and discolored sheets, unmistakable tokens of the presence of Providence in the developments of former times.

The daily news, in the "secular" press, then, is but a record of the material, intellectual, and spiritual development of the people of today.

The "secular" journalist explains what the world is thinking. He gives the drift of public opinion. He records the state of moral sentiment and the movements of religious influences.

Some few journalists are either chromatic or pessimistic. In the main, however, the opinion that the journalist is moulding is safe and sane. For illustration of this truth read the leading editorials in any first-class newspaper.

There are some 25,000 editors in the United States alone. (Many of these editors have from fifty to a hundred and more men in various departments under them.) A low estimate is 1,000 subscribers for each paper. At least three people are influenced, directly or indirectly, by each copy of a paper. It appears, then, that some three-fourths of our population get the news direct from the journalist. Each paper has its constituents who accept the explanation these editor gives of what the world is thinking. The opinions of all are moulded, either consciously or unconsciously, by the quiet, unobtrusive, and generally modest men with the pen, the type machine, the telegraph key, and the printing press.

Six days in the week 20,000,000 daily papers are issued in the United States. On Sundays the number is largely increased. The journalists of our nation, as a rule, recognise and utilize their opportunity to make the world better. With purpose high and patriotic, with effort systematic and persistent, the journalists of America, "secular" and religious, are wholesale and retail dealers in that necessary article commonly known as sunshine.

"DARKEST" GEORGIA.

By Philip Weltner, Secretary Prison Association of Georgia.

Hercules was set to clean the Augean stables. The general assembly will find a more difficult task in cleaning up the prison system of Georgia.

Zera was a simple country negro. The great hulk of him had been over-his plow year in and out. One day he came to town to visit his old grandmother. She had raised him from a baby. His mother dropped dead on the depot plaza. It was a case of epilepsy, of which Zera had shown strains even as a child. Just as he got into town he was overtaken by a fit. A policeman promptly dubbed the case "a drunk" and "ran him in." Zera was bound over for vagrancy, and, finally was sent to the chain-gang. They dolled him out in stripes and chains and drove him to his task. While at work he fell, rolling over and over in the throes of his malady, muttering senseless things, mingled curse and reckless jibber. Great flecks of foam rose to his lips, and he gnashed his tongue until it bled.

When it was dusk they carried him back to camp. His tongue was so swollen he could not speak. One of the guards, claiming that Zera had cursed him, marked him for the lash. They took the negro out and "gamped him," stretching him out on the dirt, his body bare, two prisoners holding his head and two his feet. The captain stood over the quivering body, and beat him into insensibility, tearing two great wounds on his back. His cries for mercy were unheeded. Down came the lash. Blow followed blow. Then the body lay still.

Nightfall came. The prisoners lay on their bunks asleep, except this epileptic, whose moans broke out from time to time, quickly to be hushed by the guard who paced the floor.

The policeman who made the arrest did not stop to find the real trouble. Zera was hustled off to the calaboose. The recorder was not informed. Nor the solicitor and the judge did not take time to look at the great nitch in his tongue. He was hurriedly put through the grind men call the "wheels of justice." In the camp, who cared? The captain and the guards were paid, not to make men, but to make roads. They were hired to shackle their prisoners and drive them, like dum cattle, to their work. What chance did Zera stand?

Men speak of justice. "Justice, wisdom and moderation" is the legend adorning the seal of the state. The people pay millions that it might prevail. Yet we fine, imprison—and damn. No wonder that half the convicts, as soon as released, take up anew their war on mankind. Wouldn't you?

"Where I Are?"

A portly negro woman was enjoying a comfortable seat in a southern Maryland inter-urban electric car. The car was crowded. An elegantly dressed white woman entered the car, and, finding no vacant seat, was hanging to a strap near the negro woman. The young conductor, taking in the situation, said, rather commandingly, to the negro woman, "Get up and give that seat to this white lady!"

Madam Negro shrugged her shoulders, walled her eyes at the conductor, and replied, very deliberately: "Mistah Con-duc-er, I is a culled lady of African descent, but I is paid a good money fo di place, an' I is goin' to sit where I are!"

"Uncle Jim" Commended.

But Col. Jim Woodward, whose trade is that of a printer and whose profession is being mayor of Atlanta, believes that the graft charges recently made in the capital city of Georgia are true. And Colonel Jim is a pretty wise old gentleman at that.—Augusta Chronicle.

Progress Demands Sacrifice.

Every step in progress is due to a sacrifice of some kind, personal or financial, but human nature is rather prone to letting the other fellow be the pioneer in progress while we follow easily along the path he has hewn out.—Dallas New Era.

More Home Products Raised.

Reports come from all sections throughout the cotton belt that the acreage will be considerably less this year than last. Nevertheless the price is a little higher than at the planting time last year.—Covington News.

The Origin of All the Trouble.

There will be no war with Japan, but the jingoes have certainly been busy the past fortnight. One chief cause of the trouble seems to be that California has a first-class demagogue for governor, a bullmooser, who is seeking to embarrass President Wilson.—Dalton Citizen.

Chickens.

Hearing a great commotion in his chicken coop, at midnight, the man of the house opened the back door, and called out, "What's makin' all that noise out there!"

"It's jus' us chickens," responded the negro in the coop.

Will Georgia Be Guilty?

It is hinted that at the approaching session of the Georgia legislature a strenuous campaign for women suffrage in the state will be waged. We can't bring ourself to think it will be by our Georgia women.—Oglethorpe Echo.

Provocation.

Four and twenty dollars, rolled in a tire;
When it struck a cobble-stone the tire had to burst.
And wasn't that an awful thing for one who never cursed?

Answered.

Mother, may I go out for a spin?
Yes, my loving daughter,
If father has paid for the gasoline
And the radiator's full of water.

What Farmers Should Know.

Georgia will never become really prosperous until the time comes when we will not have to cross the state line for supplies that can be produced at home.—Sandersville Georgian.

Bryan Tells Peace Delegates at Washington Spirit of War Must Yield to Spirit of Peace.

Washington, May 12.—"We are here to substitute the spirit of peace for the spirit of war. The ideals of peace are greater than the ideals of war. We know of no cause that cannot be settled better by reason than by war."

These were some of the sentiments expressed tonight by Secretary Bryan, who said he spoke for the president of the United States and for the administration under which he holds office. He was addressing the gathering at the banquet given by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace for the delegates from Great Britain, who are here to prepare plans for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of peace among English-speaking nations and the signing of the treaty of Ghent.

The secretary began his address with a third welcome, as he expressed it, to the British and other delegates, he having welcomed them recently in New York, and again when he received them in his office today. Mr. Bryan said he wished to present three thoughts on the subject of peace between Great Britain and the United States.

That proposed monuments along the Canadian border would testify to merits of the living and the worth of the dead of a century ago; that these monuments would give the lie to the thought that man must have war to be strong, and that the two nations would, in the days to come, set before the world a higher ideal than the ideal of war.

Host Wants Great Celebration.

In his introductory remarks, Senator Root, who presided, said that this peace of a hundred years should be the occasion for such a celebration as the world has never seen.

Lord Weardale, head of the British delegation, replied on behalf of his countrymen and country, as also did the new British ambassador, Sir Arthur Cecil-Spring-Rice. These speakers were followed by representatives of Austria, Newfoundland and the municipality of Ghent.

In the course of his remarks, Charles A. Magrath, delegate from Canada, said it was not the purpose of the conferences that have just closed in New York, as some had supposed, to bring about an alliance both offensive and defensive between the two great English-speaking nations.

Andrew Carnegie, the last speaker of the evening, declared that the United States ought to build fewer battleships and more embassies abroad for the housing of its diplomatic representatives. The giving up of one battleship, he said, might mean the construction of sixty embassies abroad at a cost of $250,000 apiece. Mr. Carnegie argued that this would save the United States from the necessity of sending millionaires abroad as ambassadors. "Beware of millionaires!" humorously remarked Mr. Carnegie in conclusion.

The delegates called upon Secretary Bryan immediately after their arrival this morning and were received by him in his offices in the state department. Mr. Bryan spoke a word with each as he shook hands and later briefly addressed the delegates as they gathered about him. He declared that in the long continued peace between the United States and Great Britain there was a lesson for all nations and this theme he elaborated later in his address at the banquet. Lord Weardale, head of the British delegation, made a brief response in behalf of the visitors.

Impressed by Marshall.

When the party arrived at the capitol later the house of representatives was about to convene, but the delegates were received by Speaker Clark in his office. He had them escorted to the house gallery, where they remained until the brief session ended. A visit to the Congressional library occupied a brief time before a visit to Vice President Marshall was made.

Mr. Marshall addressed his callers and apparently what he had to say made a deep impression upon the delegates. There were nods of approval and several of the callers made audible comments, agreeing with expressions of the vice president. Mr. Marshall said he was convinced that practically all differences between nations are possible of settlement if submitted to the arbitrament of fair-minded men. Again Lord Weardale replied for the assembled delegates.

Invest in a Diamond Before Prices Advance

Diamonds of the first quality have increased in value at an average rate of 17½ per cent annually for the last eleven years.

Under the new Tariff bill, which has just passed in Congress, the duty on uncut and polished diamonds has been increased ten per cent.

The DeBeers syndicate has also advanced prices since January $15 to $30 per carat.

Both advances will be felt in this country in the next few months. You now have the opportunity of buying diamonds at the old prices in the face of certain definite advances. You can save from 10 to 25 per cent by buying now.

Selections sent on approval. Liberal terms allowed.

DOCTORS AND DENTISTS WANTED BY UNCLE SAM

Physicians and dentists are wanted in the government service, and the United States civil service commission announces a competitive examination for men only, to be held June 4. An unmarried man is desired as physician in the insane asylum at Anton, Canal Zone, at a salary of $150 a month. There is also an opening for part of a man's time as acting assistant surgeon in the public health service at Jacksonville, Fla., at $500 a year.

In the Indian service at large a dentist is wanted at $1,500 a year, in addition to actual and necessary traveling expenses, and all dental supplies and instruments which the government will provide.

These examinations are open to all men who are citizens or owe allegiance to the United States, if they meet the requirements. Those who desire further information regarding the coming government examinations should apply to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., at once.

WEST VIEW FLORAL CO. LEASED BY GRESHAM

By Cranston G. Williams.

Irving Gresham, who is now connected with C. A. Dahl Floral company, has leased the store and greenhouses of the West View Floral company.

Mr. Gresham will continue his connection with the Dahl concern, and operate the West View Floral company.

This change in no way affects either concern, but will bring Mr. Gresham into both.

Mr. Gresham is prominent in the Atlanta floral business, and enjoys a large amount of patronage, and it is felt sure that the new venture will enjoy much success.

MISS STEADWELL WILL ENTERTAIN NEWSBOYS

By Tel Clarence Kimball.

Miss Mary Roberta Steadwell, a prominent society girl of Nashville, Tenn., and clever impersonator, arrives this morning to deliver an entertainment at the feast which the S. V. D. fraternity will give for the newsboys in the Y. M. C. A. building.

Mrs. Flora Newcomer and Mrs. Emma Neal Douglas, of Atlanta, have been untiring in their efforts for the success of the entertainment, and it is believed that it will prove an interesting and unique feature of the occasion.

NEGRO "ICE SWINDLERS" FINED IN CITY COURT

By Robert P. Lovell.

William McBride and Anthony Tuck, negroes, members of the "ice swindle" gang recently caught by the police, were convicted in Judge Calhoun's court Monday morning.

McBride was sentenced to pay a fine of $75 or serve twelve months on the chaingang and Tuck received the same fine with an option of ten months on account of pleading guilty.

The police expect that other arrests will shortly result in conviction.

SPONSORS FOR EMORY ON THEIR WAY HOME

By Cranston D. Williams.

The two sponsors of the Emory college track team, Miss Annie Sue Bonnell and Miss Edith McDonald, of Oxford, who attended the Emory-Mercer track meet in Macon Saturday, returned to their homes through Atlanta yesterday.

They were accompanied by two members of the team, Willard Irvine and Harold Saxon.

ANTI-GAMBLING WAR DECLARED BY FRANCE

Paris, May 12.—Gambling in France may be subjected to still more sweeping restrictions than those recently proposed by Jacques Piou in the chamber of deputies. The amendment to the gambling bill introduced Friday last will be taken up for further consideration Wednesday. It seeks to revoke all gambling licenses granted under the law of 1907. If this enactment is favored by the chamber, Deputy Charles Dumas announces he will submit a more drastic amendment, forbidding betting at race courses and roulette in private clubs. It also will provide that the government take measures to prevent French citizens from entering the Monaco casinos.

AGED WIFE-BEATER MUST SERVE 6 MONTHS

New York, May 12.—Edward Holahan, 82 years old, was sent to prison today for six months for beating his wife.

PULP AND PAPER FREE FROM THE OLD WORLD

Washington, May 12.—The customs court today decided that European nations are entitled to the free entry of wood pulp and paper under the "most favored nations clause" of their commercial treaties with United States because the free entry privilege is granted to Canada under the only operative clause of the Canadian reciprocity agreement.

The court also held that the treasury department had placed a correct interpretation upon the Canadian reciprocity act by immediately adding wood pulp and paper free without reciprocical action by Canada. Dissenting opinions were delivered.

Norway, Russia, Austria-Hungary and Germany claimed the right of free entry of wood pulp and paper from their respective countries. Former President Taft declined to grant the request, and referred the question to the courts.

It cannot be stated whether the treasury department or the department of justice will appeal the case to the supreme court. It has been the attitude of the government to oppose all appeals from the customs court because the act creating the court says the decision of the customs court shall be final. The fact that the question involves the interpretation of treaties may cause the government to appeal.

NAVAL CAPTAIN SMITH FACES COURT-MARTIAL

New York, May 12.—Captain Roy C. Smith, U. S. N., today faced a general court-martial in the Brooklyn navy yard. He is charged with negligence in running his ship, Arkansas, on a shoal off the coast of Cuba, February 13, last.

The specifications are that Captain Smith in proceeding from Guanacayoo bay for Guantanamo, deliberately chose a hazardous course through Cuatro Reales channel and in close proximity to Celba bank, when he might have gone around it; that he failed to use a large scale chart, selecting another less adapted to his purposes, and that he neglected to use all proper precautions. Captain Smith contends that he was under rush orders, and, although he used the best available chart, the Arkansas struck an unchartered coral reef. The cost of repairs to the Arkansas amounted to about $50,000.

The court-martial will continue tomorrow. Rear Admiral Aaron Ward is president of the court.

ON THE PICKPOCKETS CHICAGO MAKES WAR

Chicago, May 12.—Mayor Harrison today took a hand in state's Attorney Hoyne's campaign to rid the city of thugs and pickpockets. The mayor appeared before acting Chief of Police Schuettler with a list of forty persons whom he charged with being well known pickpockets, and who, he declared, had evinced remarkable ability at getting out of jail after being arrested charged with picking pockets. Mayor Harrison, Mr. Hoyne and the heads of the police department at a conference agreed upon a comprehensive system of warfare upon the pickpockets. Judge Foell, of the superior court, also issued an order that hereafter the police must make a written return on every habeas corpus writ that is issued. Many pickpockets arrested have obtained their immediate releases by habeas corpus.

Lost Life Seeking Eggs.

Salem, N. J., May 12.—William Crispen lowered himself 100 feet by a rope in the Pecone mountains near Easton, Pa., last Friday, in quest of eagles' eggs, and fell 200 feet to his death. News of the accident became known today. Crisyen, 33, had collected birds' eggs all over the country.

FIRE AND DYNAMITE USED BY THE WOMEN

Suffragettes Continue Their Campaign of Destruction in Great Britain.

London, May 12.—One of the bands of militant suffragettes assigned to interfere with the pastimes of the men of the British Isles, celebrated Whit Monday, which is a general holiday here, by burning down the headquarters of the Nottingham Boat club on the banks of the River Trent. The structure, which contained many valuable race and other skiffs, was destroyed, the loss being $10,000.

Officers of the Midland railway received an anonymous letter today saying:

"It is my duty to inform you that a desperate act will be attempted in a few days to wreck a main line express."

The railway authorities think the letter may be a hoax, but they are taking precautions.

A bomb operated by clockwork was discovered today under the veranda of the pavilion of the Limpsfield Tennis club in Surrey. Suffragette literature found nearby indicated that an explosion had been planned by the militants.

Women to Stir Dublin.

Dublin, May 12.—The recent outbreak of militanism is only a foretaste of a campaign which, according to information received by the police, the suffragettes have planned to carry out in Dublin to show their resentment of the action of the nationalist members of parliament, whom they hold responsible for defeat of the suffrage bill.

Several expert militant firebugs are here from England for the fixed purpose of organizing the incendiary feature of the campaign. These militants are being closely watched and elaborate precautions were taken tonight to guard the theaters, music halls and picture shows.

Eight Years for Stealing $120,000

Newark, N. J., May 12.—Robert M. Petty, defaulting ex-president of the Washington National bank, Washington, N. J., was sentenced today to eight years at hard labor in the state's prison. Petty's theft amounted to about $120,000.

MAGISTRATE ARRESTED FOR RELEASING ADAMS

Asheville, N. C., May 12.—Magistrate M. A. Creasman, who issued the warrant last Saturday for W. S. Adams, of Star, S. C., on the charge of bribing and intimidating a witness in the John Huff case, and who at 10 o'clock that night heard the case without the prosecutor being present and released Adams, was arrested here tonight on a bench warrant, issued by Judge W. J. Adams and held to answer to the charge of violating his oath of office. The warrant was procured by Solicitor Robert R. Reynolds this morning, after the prosecutors of Adams, with the witnesses, appeared before Magistrate Creasman to try the detective and were told that he had been released. The facts were immediately laid before Judge Adams in superior court and the bench warrant followed. Creasman is one of the most prominent men of the county.

STERILIZE CRIMINALS, SAYS MUSCOGEE JUDGE

Columbus, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Judge S. F. Gilbert, in charging the grand jury at the beginning of the spring term of Muscogee superior court today, advocated sterilization of criminals as a means of reform. He said that civilization was giving intense thought to methods of reducing crime and that it is very probable that sterilization would prove effective.

Judge Gilbert was particularly strong in his condemnation of the pistol-toting habit, declaring that it caused more sorrow and trouble than any other one thing.

Mrs. A. P. Coles Is Re-elected Head of Atlanta Woman's Club

Mrs. A. P. Coles was re-elected president of the Atlanta Woman's club yesterday by a unanimous vote. She has ably served the club for 1912-1913, and her election yesterday was a well-deserved compliment from the largest organizations of Atlanta's eighty-two federated clubs. Mrs. Coles accepted the office in a graceful expression of appreciation and introduced the newly-elected officers as follows:

First vice president, Miss Alice Baxter; second vice president, Mrs. Linton Hopkins; recording secretary, Mrs. Lott Warren; assistant secretary, Mrs. Albert Akers; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Victor Kriegshaber; treasurer, Mrs. M. M. Davies; auditor, Mrs. Arthur Powell.

Interesting Announcement.

An interesting announcement which was made and which will inspire interest throughout the state was that of the essay contest on southern literature, which will be promoted by the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, under the direction of the following committee: Miss Alice Baxter, Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. Lott Warren, Atlanta; Miss Louise Hays, Thomasville, Ga., and Mrs. M. A. Lipscomb, Athens, Ga.

The prize is a complete set of the books comprised in the "Library of Southern Literature" published by the Martin-Hoyt company and presented by them to the Georgia Federation of Clubs. Literature bearing upon the subject will be sent through the federated clubs into all parts of the state.

Conditions of Contest.

The conditions governing the contest were announced as follows:

1. Contestants in the preparation of their essays are expected to deal with each phase of literature suggested by subheads.

2. The contest is open to all young men and women (white) of Georgia who are 18 and not over 25 years of age.

3. Each contestant shall use a pseudonym for signing the essays and in a separate sealed envelope, accompanying same, shall write plainly both the fictitious and real name with full address. These sealed envelopes will be opened only by the central committee and after the selection of the best essay has been decided, but it will be understood that the sealed envelope must go as directed in article 3.

4. The manuscript must be type-written, using one side of paper only.

5. Contestants shall certify at the bottom of their essay as follows:

"I hereby certify that I am within the age limit specified, that this paper is of my own composition, prepared without aid of any kind except such as was obtained from reading, with all quotations used clearly indicated, and contains ..... words."

6. Essays will be graded as to subject matter and literary merit and must not contain more than twenty-five hundred to three thousand words.

7. The name of the successful contestant will be announced and the prize awarded at the state convention of the Georgia Federation of Women's clubs to be held October 28, 1913, at Cuthbert, Ga.

8. Contestants shall send essays to the Prize-Essay Committee of the Congressional District in which they reside not later than September 15, 1913. These committees shall be in charge of the Congressional District Club President. Each district president, assisted by her committee, shall select one of the essays submitted and send it to the central committee not later than October 5, 1913. Through this procedure the central committee should have twelve carefully selected papers, one from each congressional district, from which number will be selected the prize essay.

9. Contestants are advised to read Southern writers and are privileged to consult any thoroughly reliable reference books within their reach. Librarians, teachers and members of the federation will be glad to give suggestions as to books. Among good authorities are "Southern Writers," W. P. Trent; "Southern Poets," C. W. Hubner; "South in History and Literature," Mildred Rutherford. The "Library of Southern Literature," Alderman and Harris, will be found more than any other work to embrace all phases of southern literature.

Woman's Edition Discussed.

The Woman's Edition of The Constitution was a theme for enthusiastic discussion, and the subscription committee made a fine report. Mrs. Price Smith, Miss Alice Baxter and Mrs. Harvie Jordan spoke in the interest of the edition.

DIRECTORS OF Y. W. C. A. MEET THIS MORNING

There will be a call meeting of the Y. W. C. A. board Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in the Steiner-Emery building, on the second floor in the girls' night school room. This is a very important business meeting, and all members are urged to be present.

Fry Fish in Cottolene

You can fry fish in Cottolene, and use the remaining fat for frying potatoes or other food. The odor of the fish will not be imparted to the other fried food.

Cottolene is not alone economical for the reason that it can be used over and over, but also because it is richer than butter or lard, and one-third less is required. It is twice as economical as butter, much more economical than lard.

Cottolene makes rich, digestible, tasty, healthful food. Does not make food greasy, and is free from indigestion.

Cottolene is never sold in bulk—always in air-tight tin pails, which protect it from dirt, dust and odors. It is always uniform and dependable.

MOULTRIE MAN SHOT OVER OLD LAWSUIT

Fist Fight on Main Street Ends in Shooting—May Be Fatal.

Moultrie, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—A shooting scrape, which may prove fatal, occurred in the business district of the city today at noon, when J. I. Battle, a wealthy livestock dealer and real estate owner, fired a bullet at close range into W. P. Brown. A law suit between these parties was tried at the last term of the superior court, and is said to have stirred up bad blood between them.

It culminated in the shooting today when Battle stopped Brown on the street and asked him if he had made a certain remark that had been credited to him. Brown replied in the affirmative and Battle is said to have passed the lie and to have been instantly knocked down by Brown, who proceeded to administer a severe thrashing.

During the melee Battle pulled his gun and fired one shot, the bullet entering Brown's left side and passing through his left lung. The men were pulled apart and Brown was carried to a sanitarium. The bullet was removed from his back and his physician says his chances are about even. Battle is a man of large means and has no family. Brown is a young man and has a wife and several children. Battle has not been arrested.

COURT ORDER HALTS CHANGE IN AFFAIRS FOR GEORGIA LIFE

Macon, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—The Georgia Life Insurance company was this morning restrained temporarily from changing its name to "The Georgia Casualty company" on petition of three stockholders, T. L. Bell, J. H. Holloway and J. R. Sanders. The restraining order also holds up the proposed reduction in the capital stock from $500,000 to $300,000. The stockholders of the company are to meet Tuesday, and the changing of the name and reduction of the capital stock were the two principal matters expected to be passed upon.

The restraining order was granted by Judge H. A. Mathews, in the superior court and the officers of the company are cited to appear on June 13 and show cause why they should not be permanently enjoined from taking such action.

The company recently sold its life business to a Maryland company, and is now writing only casualty business. It is for that reason that it is desired to change the name.

No Mount Vernon Sunday.

Washington, May 12.—The question of opening Mount Vernon to the public on Sundays, advocated by the Daughters of the American Revolution, will not come formally before the board of regents of the Ladies' Mount Vernon association during their annual meeting now in progress. Some members favor the movement, but it was today announced that the board was "practically unanimous" against it.

What to Do With a Lunatic, Not a Citizen of Georgia, Puzzles Savannah Courts

Savannah, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—For want of jurisdiction Judge McAlpin today dismissed lunacy proceedings against J. Homer Meachum, the actor who tried to commit suicide by drinking wood alcohol behind the scenes of a theater here last week. Meachum has been locked up since last Friday when his wife swore out a lunacy warrant against him.

It developed after the case was taken out that Meachum was not a resident of Georgia, and that he could not be committed to the state sanitarium for treatment. It was deemed advisable to hold him for a short time, however, to see if he would not get better. His wife, who was a member of the company which has been performing in Savannah, says that she has enough of Meachum, and he will be sent back to his home on Long Island, N. Y. His mind has been affected and his wife does not believe it is safe for her to live with him longer.

Fifty-Mile Record Broken.

London, May 12.—A new world's amateur running record for 50 miles was made today by E. W. Lloyd, who ran the distance in 6 hours, 13 minutes and 58 seconds.

The old record was made by J. E. Dixon, in 1885, and was 4 minutes and 28 1-5 seconds slower than Lloyd's time today.

JURY REFORM FIGHT WON BY THE PRESIDENT

Washington, May 12.—President Wilson viewed with satisfaction the passage of a jury reform bill today by the New Jersey house.

Party leaders telephoned the president that the measure passed by the lower house and scheduled to pass the senate tomorrow, would provide for juries no longer to be drawn by sheriffs, but by commissioners selected by the state chancellor in conference with the supreme court justices of the various counties. The whole proposal, however, would be submitted to a statewide referendum vote next November.

The white house looked upon the bill as a victory for the efforts of the president in his trip to New Jersey. Mr. Wilson had declared he would favor a referendum if it were genuine and opposed previous proposals because a percentage of the electorate, rather than a majority of all votes cast, was to decide the issue.

THE NEWS OF A DAY AS SEEN BY BOYS OF EMORY

PUBLIC COMFORTS CITY'S BIG NEED

President Wilmer L. Moore Thinks City Should Have Free Baths for Whites and Negroes.

By David Spencer.

"When a city has no public comforts the stranger has but two choices —the hotels, which are not on every corner, and the saloons, which usually are," says Wilmer L. Moore, president of the chamber of commerce. "And the trouble with the latter is that a man then feels obliged to buy a drink.

Atlanta has no public comforts at all. Other cities, in fact, most cities have, and some of them are not as large as Atlanta. As the city each year is filled with thousands of business men, commercial travelers as well as pleasure-seekers, they should be placed all over the city, especially in the business district."

Public Baths Needed.

Mr. Moore says that public baths are needed where the masses of the people are congested, such as the Decatur street district.

"Public baths are no longer a question of luxury for the masses, they are a necessity," he said. "The city is practically without them, the exception being in the case of the lake for summer swimming at Piedmont Park.

"In building the baths the colored population should be provided for. We cannot forget that they make up a large part of the population, and must be cared for. This will be a decided step toward teaching them to care for themselves.

A Nation-Wide Movement.

"A city's health is its biggest asset. This movement in Atlanta is only a part of the nation-wide movement that is sweeping over the country. Improved health naturally follows improved health conditions, and the city must awake to the fact that it must look after the health of its people.

"The chamber of commerce will take up the matter soon. Very likely a special committee will be appointed and the matter rushed to a successful conclusion.

LOOKS FOR NO UNION AT THIS ASSEMBLY

Chicago Pastor Thinks Action Immature at Present—He Favors Union.

By George McDonnell Acree.

Dr. Albert Joseph McCartney, pastor of Kenwood church, of Chicago, an interdenominational institution, arrived yesterday to attend the opening session of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church.

He is interested in advancing the union of the Presbyterian churches of America.

Kenwood church, of which Dr. McCartney is pastor, is known as the Kenwood Evangelical church, and was organized as a community church in 1887. It is one of a number of churches of that character which has met with more or less success.

It includes in its membership representatives of all Christian denominations who accept the evangelical faith. Its standards are constituted on the beliefs that are held in common by the Christian denominations.

The church has been remarkably successful in maintaining the spirit of peace and good will amongst its members, notwithstanding the many denominations from which that membership is made up.

It contributes annually to benevolences a budget of $25,000 which is distributed through the organic channels of different denominational boards.

It gives its foreign missionary contribution through the American board of congregational church and its home missionary contribution through the Presbyterian board.

Although interdenominational in character, the church has always had Presbyterian ministers. The present pastor is one of a family of five ministers, and is the son of a "Covenanter, or reformed Presbyterian minister.

In discussing the question of Presbyterian union, Dr. McCartney says that he does not anticipate that there will be any very definite action taken toward union at this assembly other than mutual demonstrations of fraternity and good will.

He also states that he would regret any premature attempt at union, but says that a great deal can be done at the convention held in Atlanta this week to bring about a friendly feeling and a better understanding of the differences that have separated the churches in the past, and that these will have a stronger appreciation of the things that they hold in comm n.

Dr. McCartney will stop at the Piedmont during his stay in Atlanta.

DR. H. M. DU BOSE LAUDS COURSE IN JOURNALISM

By Cranston G. Williams.

Dr. H. M. DuBose, pastor of the First Methodist church, views the innovation of journalism being taught in the colleges of America with a great deal of interest, and rejoices in the fact that Emory college has taken up this phase of college work.

Dr. DuBose discussed the enterprise of the promoters of this feature with interest. "I believe," he said, "in it, as I am a practical journalist myself, having been in the church newspaper fork for twenty years.

"Our young men in entering journalism should take the same views of their work as when entering the ministry, teaching, or any other profession—go into it to do the best they can for themselves and the public.

"Newspapers should be guarded by the canons of correct education, ethical responsibility and personal honor. And with these three factors journalism will rise to the plane of one of the highest factors in our modern civilization."

COMMERCIAL SCHOOL NEEDS NEW BUILDING

Superintendent Slaton Tells of Remarkable Growth During Brief Space of Time.

By George MacDonnell Acree.

In an interview Tuesday Superintendent Slaton gave out the following information:

"The English Commercial high school forms its curriculum along vocational lines and meets the demands both of progressive American cities, and of modern educational thought.

"The school has grown so rapidly that it is greatly embarrassed by the lack of a suitable building. At present it occupies two separate rented buildings on the lot of the St. Philips Episcopal church. The lower floors of these buildings are about eight feet below the Washington viaduct, where waves of dust disturb and where the continual noise of traffic surges in, drowning the voices of teachers and pupils.

"The rooms are cramped and small. Some of the classes sit in a kitchen, which has been converted into a small school room. The winding flights of stairs are narrow and dangerous.

"The sanitary appointments are insufficient and there is nothing inspiring in the place itself to the student body.

"Despite all these unfavorable conditions, the school has prospered to a wonderful degree under the principal Mrs. A. T. Wiley, and her faithful and intelligent associates of the faculty.

"In these rented buildings there are 45 desks for the third grade. Next year there must be 50.

Desks To Be Added.

"There are 68 desks for the second grade now. Next year there must be 86.

"There are 120 desks in the first grade now. Next year there must be 160.

"The city of Atlanta has bought the Joseph E. Brown lot as a site for a new English Commercial high school building.

"Present conditions in our public school system demand the erection of a new building for this vocational department of our schools.

Should Teach Cooking and Sewing.

"This school is now teaching stenography, bookkeeping, typewriting, penmanship, arithmetic, English grammar, English literature, French, spelling, history and commercial geography.

"In addition to these studies it is all important that the schools should teach dress cutting and fitting and making, sewing, millinery, and cooking.

"The knowledge of household economics will be of infinite value to these young ladies throughout life, as every married woman, every mother and every intelligent man knows.

"We cannot have these conditions that are so necessary to a successful vocational high school for girls in the present contracted quarters."

Building for Girls Needed.

Superintendent William M. Slaton, of the board of education; Mayor J. G. Woodward, the federated woman's clubs of Atlanta, reinforced by an intelligent public opinion, urge the erection of an English Commercial high school building for girls.

The council of the city is urged to appropriate $75,000 for that purpose in the June apportionment sheet.

Superintendent Slaton expresses the earnest hope and belief that the city council, actuated by patriotism and wisdom, will see that this school is properly provided for in June.

FARMERS ARE GLOOMY OVER LONG DROUGHT

Showers Expected Today, But Only Enough to Settle the Dust.

By Tel Clarence Kimball.

Director C. F. von Herrmann, of the local weather bureau, predicts no appreciable rainfall within the next twenty-four hours. Indications, however, point to slight showers during the day. The slowly rising temperature makes the indications more favorable. On Monday a storm swept over northern Minnesota and there was also one at Salt Lake City, but the storm areas are too far away to affect local conditions.

The drought of the past six weeks has been almost unprecedented in the history of the local weather office. The rainfall in April was only .84 inch, against 6.65 inches during April last year. The normal for April is 3.63 inches. For the first thirteen days of May the rainfall has been only .04 inch, against 1.56 inch for the same period last year, while the normal rainfall for the entire month of May is 3.69 inches.

Only twice within the last thirty-four years has the rainfall for April been so slight. April, 1896, the rainfall was .58 inches, and April, 1906, it was .81 inches, against .84 inches of this April.

In May, 1897, the rainfall was .31 inches, this being the only year within the last thirty-four in which the fall was less than an inch. More than half the month of May remains, but it is not likely that the total rainfall will reach anything like the normal, or the record of last year.

Director von Herrmann would make no statement as to the effect of the dry weather on crop conditions, but on the statement that his experience has been that a dry April and May means a good crop year, since farmers then have abundant opportunity to get their crops in shape. Local farmers, however, and reports from various sections still show uneasiness and say that the crops cannot come up until it rains. The cool nights are very bad on cotton.

CAPITAL CITY CLUB PROPERTY PLANS STILL UNDECIDED

By I. E. McKellar.

When asked what he would do with the property on which the old Capital City club stood, Asa G. Candler said Monday that he did not know. This is most valuable property and of greatest interest in real estate circles.

Being asked if he might build and improve, or sell at once, Mr. Candler repeated, "I don't now know what I shall do with it."

CERTIFICATION SYSTEM MEETING WITH FAVOR

Dozens of Letters Are Received Daily by State Department of Education.

By Tel Clarence Kimball.

The state department of education has considerable variation from its usual correspondence these days by reason of the new system of certification just adopted by the state board. Every mail brings dozens of letters of inquiry from teachers and others on this subject.

Until this year no examination or test of qualifications in any way has been required of high school instructors except in three or four city systems. Now, however, all this has changed and teachers doing high school work must be certified to as to competency and qualifications just as those in primary and general elementary work.

The new system gives credit for diplomas from colleges and normal schools in addition to the old requirement by examination merely.

It is set forth in full in a little pamphlet published by the state superintendent and from the simplest and most rudimentary system of certification in the country brings Georgia up to one of considerable complexity and much higher standard of excellence.

BLUE SKY LAW TO BE DISCUSSED, THIS AFTERNOON

By Thomas Byrd Magath.

At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon a special committee meeting, with E. M. Willet as chairman, will meet in the rooms of the chamber of commerce for a discussion of the blue sky law, a bill drawn up Albert Howell to prevent the sale of stocks and fictitious values. The bill will be proposed in the coming session of the legislature, and all the influence of the chamber will be directed toward its passage.

Following this meeting there will be held at 5:30 o'clock a committee meeting, with Dr. C. M. Barzwell as chairman, looking toward the proposal to the county for having regular inspection of the schools of Fulton county by dental experts. This committee was instrumental in having two schools examined last year, which showed the necessity for dental inspection.

DENTAL INSPECTION NEEDED IN SCHOOLS

Dr. Thomas P. Hinman Declares Health of Children Will Profit Greatly.

By H. M. Shaver.

"I think that Atlanta should adopt and rigidly enforce dental inspection in the public schools of the city," declared Dr. Thomas P. Hinman, one of the leading dentists of Atlanta, in speaking of the plan that will be argued before the chamber of commerce tonight.

"We are not aware of the amount of disease and of the injury done to the health of children by neglect in this important matter. More dangerous germs find lodgment in the teeth and permanently injure the health than the public are aware. Intelligent care of the teeth will prevent many diseases and lengthen life."

Dr. Hinman quotes Dr. William Osler, formerly of the Johns Hopkins university, now professor emeritus at Oxford university, England, when he says "mouth infections cause more injury to the human race than alcohol." If so eminent an authority as Dr. Osler makes this statement, the city ought to do its share toward the prevention of disease by compulsory dental examinations of the mouths of the pupils."

"When I was in Cincinnati last I saw for myself the value of dental instruction in the schools of the city," continued Dr. Hinman. "When I examined a grade that had dental instruction and examination I found forty or more pupils with almost perfect teeth. The teacher reported practically no absence for the term because of sickness. I went to another room where dental hygiene was not taught and found that the record for absences was high. The mouths of the pupils were in a deplorable condition and the general health was bad. This shows why dental instruction should be compulsory in the public schools.

"A great many diseases can be traced to defective teeth. Dental inspection is, indeed, something the four schools should have, and I favor it most heartily."

Mystery Within a Mystery Now Baffling Newspaper Men Working on the Phagan Case

By Thomas Byrd Magath.

A veil of mystery, so dense as to completely shut off the light from all newspaper men, surrounds the identity of the detective who has been employed by Solicitor General Dorsey.

So far nothing can be learned except that the mysterious detective has worked on the case only one week, and is now not in Atlanta, but some distance away working on another case.

This detective, "one of the best in the country," quotes Mr. Dorsey, "did not give up the case because of inefficiency, for," says the solicitor general, "I am absolutely satisfied with his work and hope he will continue work on the case."

Where Did He Come From?

Where this detective came from is known only to Mr. Dorsey. He declared in an interview on Monday that he had divulged the name to no one, and that his movements were unknown to all save himself.

If the detective has discovered anything definite it is not to be told until the whole matter has "simmered down" and all the evidence that can be gotten together is in hand. Hundreds of affidavits have been pouring in, many of which will be excluded.

Case Before Jury Friday.

Mr. Dorsey further stated in the interview that it was not likely that the case would come before the grand jury until Friday, and that Frank and Lee would both probably be considered at once, although if a true bill were found against them he could not say which would be tried first.

Wholesale Grocers Are Joyous Over the Business Outlook

By H. M. Shaver.

The leading wholesale grocers of Atlanta declare that business is on the boom and that the prospects for a prosperous fall season are bright. There is an increase in the sales over the corresponding period last year. In unison they declare that business is in a very healthy condition despite the bad crops of last season. Although money has been more tight than usual, the people will have to rely more upon their resources.

J. G. Oglesby, of the Oglesby Grocery company, says: "Trade is good this spring and every indication points to a prosperous fall season. More corn has been planted this year than heretofore and we will have a greater diversity of crops."

H. Y. McCord, of the McCord-Stewart company, said: "Sales have been better than I have expected after so poor a crop as we had last season. Money has been tight this spring and our crops will be cheaper. I expect the cheapest crop that we have had in five years. Government reports indicate a 7 per cent increase in the average of cotton. I think that all merchants are optimistic and expect a very prosperous fall."

E. L. Adams, of the E. L. Adams company, says that the business outlook for the fall is very good. Continuing he said: "Of course those who were hurt by the poor crop last fall have not fully recovered from the misfortune, nevertheless merchants are optimistic because the crop will be cheaper this year. If weather conditions are fair we expect a very brisk fall business. I predict a good fall trade for wholesale merchants, provided weather conditions are fair for good crop."

J. M. Conley, of Conley & Ennis, predicts good business this fall from present indications. He says: "We expect to have good business this fall, and if present indications count for anything, we will have brisk trade. Crops are fair and there will be a cheaper crop this fall than usual."

Biggest Business in Years.

W. O. Stamps, of Fain & Stamps, is of the opinion that the fall crops and business will be the largest in many years, because buyers are conservative and our farmers are living more economically this year than ever before. He adds: "Although business is not quite as large as it has been heretofore, we expect a very large crop, if weather conditions permit, and brisk business this fall. We can never tell what the outcome of a crop will be, but from present indications I feel optimistic about the outlook."

John A. Manget, of the Browder-Manget Grocery company, is very optimistic about business in the coming fall and stated to a reporter that the wholesale grocers expect a good business this fall from present indications. "Crops are getting along well and fall business will be one of the best in years, if present indications amount to anything."

With indications of a good crop, the wholesale merchants are preparing for a heavy fall trade. Buying has been about normal even after the bad crop of last fall. This indicates a large crop this fall, which will bring abundant prosperity to all merchants in the state. The wholesale grocers are optimistic, and they are the barometers of business in the state.

CHANGES ARE COMING IN ATLANTA THEATERS

Tabloid at the Bijou and Stock at the Lyric Announced for Summer.

By Irvin Ennis.

If the plans and prospects for Atlanta's playhouses, as stated by Hugh Cardoza, are carried out, the city will soon see several changes in the theater world.

A dramatic stock company will, very probably, be installed at the Lyric in a short while. Emma Bunting will not appear in this company, according to Mr. Cardoza. It's leading actors will be procured from well-established organizations and will appear only in farces and light comedies.

Beginning next Monday at the Bijou the nature of the attractions there will be entirely changed. A season of tabloid musical comedy will be instituted. The caste will be made up of eighteen to twenty people, with a chorus of from twelve to fourteen girls. There will be no change from the present prices or schedule of performances.

The future of the Grand is altogether speculative. This is the sixth largest theater in the country, having three thousand seats. This fact, Mr. Cardoza believes, is declared by the management to be a handicap as the public feels more at home when closely congregated. It is possible if a high-class of films can be obtained that moving pictures will be run there during the summer. The McVickers in Chicago and the Broadway in New York have already adopted this plan.

The regular Keith vaudeville will continue at the Forsyth during the summer season.

No Roof Gardens Here.

The question of a roof garden in Atlanta has been many times discussed. "Such a form of amusement in Atlanta is altogether out of the question," declared Mr. Cardoza yesterday. "It would cost four thousand dollars a week to run it. This would mean that 2,000 people a night at 25 cents admission would be required to make it pay. There is no roof in Atlanta nor elevator service that could accommodate such a mass.

"Public taste has already made unprofitable the maintaining of amusement parks, except on the water fronts. Even Coney Island and Philadelphia's Willow Grove are deteriorating. The skating rink fad has also died out and there is little left to make such parks attractive to the public.

"Atlanta is undoubtedly one of the best cities for theatrical productions in the country. There is room for every theater here if the right productions are staged. The public taste is undoubtedly in favor of vaudeville. This is because the great variety in the vaudeville attractions appeal to every class. Then, too, the public has come to the time when it attends the theater to laugh rather than to sit through the artistic productions of a Shakespeare drama.

Melodrama Dead.

"The old-fashioned melodrama has been killed by the tremendous growth of the moving picture business. But vaudeville and musical comedy will never be interfered with in this way, as it is impossible to portray the spirit of such amusement on a picture sheet.

"The moving picture shows are the incubators for the theaters. There the public gets the habit of being amused and becoming tired of the movies seeks the theaters."

VETS CELEBRATE 49TH ANNIVERSARY OF SPOTTSYLVANIA

By Cranston G. Williams.

A number of veterans of the civil war called upon Colonel W. H. Harrison and Comptroller General W. A. Wright, at the state capitol, yesterday to recount and discuss the experiences of the battle of Spottsylvania Courthouse, Va., which was fought on May 12, 1864.

Yesterday was the fifty-seventh anniversary of this battle, and for years these veterans at the capitol have met and spent enjoyable hours recounting the experiences of their leaders and comrades.

The design for the monument of General John B. Gordon on the capitol grounds was secured from an experience in this battle, in which General Gordon prevented General Robert E. Lee from leading his men into battle to restore the line broken by the assault of Hancock's corps, and where an entire division of Lee's army had been captured.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS DISCUSSED

By I. E. McKellar.

There is a movement among some of the alumni and many of the students of Emory college looking to a revival of intercollegiate athletics at Emory. They intend to ask for three years' trial under proper faculty supervision.

Asa G. Candler, who is president of the board of trustees of the college, when asked his opinion of the matter, said he was in favor of it, and thought it would never come.

He says it is opposed to the history and traditions of the past and contrary to the present sentiment. "Some young men are agitating the question, but they will never succeed," said he. "I don't think they will ever get it."

ATLANTA FAVORED BY THE SHRINERS

All Signs Indicate City Will Win the 1914 Convention. Memphis Fighting Hard. Adair Certain of Victory.

By Fred Houser.

Dallas, Texas, May 12.—(Special.)—It is declared a certainty that Atlanta will be selected as the mecca of Shrinedom for 1914 on the first ballot. Memphis, Tenn., is putting up a strong fight, and the battle is between these two southern cities. The patrol and drum corps of Yaraab temple arrived this morning, and all day have been carrying on a vigorous campaign, giving exhibition drills in the lobbies of the leading hotels, where they have been received with an ovation on every side.

Ernest J. Cutts, of Savannah, Ga., a member of the imperial council, arrived at 3 o'clock today, and is doing good work for Atlanta among the imperial officers and representatives. Potentate Sharreth, of Oak temple, Hammond, Ind., is predicting that Atlanta will win on the first ballot.

The patrol and drum corps are quartered at the Mornin' Silas,' encampment at Fair park, and are highly pleased with the provisions made for their comfort.

Adair Confident of Victory.

Potentate Forrest Adair is more than confident that the efforts of his delegation will meet with success. The booklet issued by the Atlanta convention bureau, setting forth the claims of public buildings, has made a decided hit, and a copy of same has been placed in the hands of every representative. A great many of the wives and daughters of visiting Shriners have asked for these books.

"We have all the ladies on our side," said Mr. Adair, "and I believe this assures the 1914 meeting for Atlanta."

Memphis is putting on a big "outside show" in an effort to get Atlanta votes, while Atlanta is relying on its "inside show," and the Atlanta men believe they have enough pledges to win.

Two Memphis camels arrived today. Tonight the Memphis crowd opened a real side show, and meanwhile the Memphis orders and souvenirs were spread everywhere among the Shriners.

Marching music awakened a large portion of the population of Dallas when scores of patrols and bands of music began to arrive for the thirty-ninth annual convention of Shriners. Twenty-six special trains arrived today.

"Mornin', Silas."

A feature of the city's entertainment is the making of every one of its 100,000 population an unofficial member of the entertainment committee and the slogan of the Shriners, "Mornin', Silas," appeared in bunting on automobiles and in all sorts of places throughout Dallas. The slogan drew a $25 prize when it was selected from several hundred other welcoming greetings submitted in competition about a year ago.

Welcoming was the main business of the opening session today. Tuesday will be parade day. Wednesday business will be finished and Thursday a thousand-mile tour of the state will begin.

Montgomery, Ala., sent a delegation of 50 Shriners to remind the imperial officers that Montgomery's request for the establishment of a temple there is the only unfinished business left over from last year's meeting in Los Angeles.

A telegram today from Charles P. O'Neal, mayor of San Diego, Cal., announced that the shriners of Los Angeles and San Diego had him a prisoner aboard their special trains and warned Dallasites that as soon as they hear the song, "I Love You, California," they may know the boys pirates have arrived and had better "chain down everything movable unless it is red-hot."

Sunday Supplement Band.

"A Sunday supplement" band appeared on the streets today, each man wearing a multi-colored silk uniform, a metal protected helmet and each played an accordion. They were thus labelled, but some of them were recognized as Dallas Shriners.

More than 10,000 people had registered up to noon today, in fezzes, silks and plushes they overran the business section of the city, turning the street into a merry making carnival and when the sun got hot they began marching, singing and band playing in the business buildings.

One patrol of half a dozen which did not have a band, kept busy wheeling into military formation and saluting ladies and doing it so decorously they drew continued applause. Al Azhar Temple, of Calgary, Manitoba, arrived at 3 o'clock today, and is doing good work for Atlanta among the imperial officers and representatives. Potentate Sharreth, of Oak temple, Hammond, Ind., is predicting that Atlanta will win on the first ballot.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL WANTS IMPROVEMENTS

By Cranston G. Williams.

The executive committee of the State College of Agriculture, Athens, held an important conference yesterday morning in regard to the recommendations that will be made for the improvement of the college. Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the college; Major J. J. Conner, president of the board of trustees; Dr. L. G. Hardeman, of Commerce, and John T. Newton, of Madison, were the members of the committee present.

This committee conferred with Governor-elect John M. Slaton regarding the proposed changes, and it is expected that the incoming governor will feature his message with recommendations for the improvement of the college.

Changes Suggested.

Dr. Soule, president of the college, stated that the following changes would be requested:

Increase in maintenance from $80,000 to $85,000. Of this amount $10,000 is to be used for establishing a degree course in veterinary medicine and $15,000 to provide additional equipment and facilities, employ tutors and instructors where needed and provide for the many contingent expenses which an institution of this character has to meet on account of its exceptional growth.

Increase in extension appropriations from $40,000 to $85,000. Of this amount $20,000 is to be used for boys' and girls' clubs and demonstration work, $10,000 for soil surveys, $5,000 for the establishment of live stock breeding centers, $5,000 for teachers' training courses in elementary agriculture and $5,000 for poultry husbandry.

The need of additional money for instruction and extension demonstration work is so self-evident that special reasons why it should be appropriated need no be given here. If the money sought for extension work is obtained funds equivalent to between $55,000 and $80,000 will be secured from federal and other sources for the furtherance of this work. If the appropriations are not obtained a good part of this money will go to states willing to appropriate money on the basis of dollar for dollar.

Naturally it is essential that the appropriation of $2,500 made for several years past for the holding of farmers' institutes and the $3,000 appropriation for the manufacture of hog cholera serum be continued.

The income of Georgia is not far from $6,000,000 annually. The college seeks $175,500 for maintenance and extension work. This is a little less than one-thirtieth of the state's total revenue and surely is a reasonable amount of the state's income to devote to agricultural development." The board of trustees will also ask for $100,000 for another building. The necessity of more room in many of the departments is apparent to anyone who reflects for a moment on the remarkable increase in attendance. The present enrollment is 1,200, about 200 students. The college has only one academic building. We cannot permit boys to be turned away from its doors who seek an agricultural education.

BETTER CAR SCHEDULES AS THEY ARE NEEDED

By Robert P. Lovell, Jr.

"We intend to increase the street car service," says Preston S. Arkwright. "As soon as the various lines show the need of quicker schedules more and new cars bought will probably be of the pay-as-you-enter type unless some other type of car far better than this is developed in the near future.

"We are going to meet the demands of the public as far as we reasonably can. We ultimately intend to have cars on the sides of all cars, as well as on the front.

The street railway company has no other plans for the improvement of the street car service other than that which they and the railroad commission agree upon. We do not contemplate the construction of any new lines other than completing the line which is now being built to Stone Mountain. This line will be opened to the public about September 1, if the people of Clarkston do not give us any trouble about the right-of-way through that town. We do not know whether we will extend the line below Stone Mountain or not at present, but are going to leave consideration of that for the future.

"Statistics show that Atlanta has the best street car service in the country in proportion to population."

Mexico at Shoot.

Washington, May 12.—Mexico has been added to the list of countries which will send rifle teams to compete in the international shooting competition to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, next fall. Other Pan-American countries which will be represented are Argentina, Peru, Chile and Cuba.

As Emory Artists Saw Tag Day

Tag Day and the Pretty Workers As Seen By the Boys From Emory

By J. R. Blake.

On one of the main streets in Atlanta yesterday a small two-passenger auto rolled up to the curbing. A pretty "little girl approached the driver with these words: "Please buy a tag pennant for your pretty automobile. You see every one is selling them, but it will look lots prettier if you get it from me." Upon seeing a look of perplexity appear on his face, she explained to him in full the purpose of Tag day—that it was for the benefit of the Sheltering Arms.

"What's your price?" was his question after she had finished her few persuasive remarks.

"Just a dollar a—"

"Oh, Mother!" he said, at the same time starting his car. Before going far he put on the brakes and looked around. The girl was standing, and with a look of disappointment on her face. He motioned her to come forward, and, while handing her two crisp $1 bills for two of her pennants, he said, jokingly:

"What do we care for expenses? We all know its Tag day."

She replied: "Don't you worry. I got your tag," and gave him a slight touch on the shoulder.

This incident is only one of many that could be seen on any of the crowded streets throughout the day. In front of the Piedmont hotel one of the "taggers" approached a rather countryfied looking young man, and greeted him with the usual greetings of the day: "Won't you have a tag?"

"I don't care if I do," he replied.

The young lady handed him one of the tags, which he slowly placed in his pocket and walked away.

"Wait a minute," she called. "You have not paid me, and those things cost something."

He pulled the little card out carefully and looked at both sides for several seconds.

"I did not think I wanted the thing at first, but I am sure I don't now. My grandfather paid 50 cents for one a thing years ago, and it wasn't worth a flip. You can't fool me that way."

It is hard to see how anyone with a heart could do a pretty girl taht way.

It was evident to every one in Atlanta that Monday was Tag day. A large number of pretty girls was on the job from start to finish, and it is hoped that they they will be rewarded by securing a very large sum.

By Tom Burnside.

"Won't you please buy a tag?" asked a charming lady of a well-dressed young man who rode up in an automobile in front of Elkins' drug store.

"No, I haven't time," he said. I'll be back in a little while and buy one."

After a short while the man came riding up, getting out of the machine came and bought one for a dollar.

"I'll tell you," he said, "about going to come back this afternoon and buy another from you," as he drove away. The young lady said:

"Just like a man."

In a short time the gentleman came again. Getting out he came up to the young lady.

"Give me another," he said," and, handing the young lady another dollar, continued:

"I tell you this is a great cause that the people of Atlanta are helping today, and I have been thinking about it since I left you, and I tell you what I am going to do. How long will you be here?"

"Oh, till about 6," she replied.

"Then at 6 I am going to come back here and buy every tag that you have left."

"All right," she said, as he drove away in his machine.

By Frank L. Buxton.

"Buy a tag, please," came from over two hundred of the prettiest girls of Atlanta throughout yesterday.

The only way one could refuse a tag was to say he would get one only from a homely girl. One man was seen to take the last dollar bill from his pocketbook and hand it over to a pretty blue-eyed girl. Wasn't it worth the money?

The sale of one tag to an individual could not satisfy most of the girls. They would say, "Don't you want another tag? It will make you feel better," and from general appearances, it did make them feel better.

A little girl in front of the Kimball said, "My tags look much better than the others, buy one, please." She may have been speaking of herself instead of the tags; if so, she was just about right.

Even the blind was tagged, also the street beggars. The men who were not tagged surely didn't see much of Atlanta during the day.

There was a man seen on Whitehall with nineteen tags swinging to his coat. He thought each girl he saw was prettier than the last one who tagged him; so he was again tagged. How could he refuse with money in his pocket, and tags in the hands of the pretty girls?

By Richard J. Broyles.

A handsome young man dressed in the height of fashion with no less suitable charming manners, switched across Five Points' busy way. On reaching the curbing of a densely populated corner, he was assailed by an especially charming young lady, who boldly, though kindly, demanded that he allow her to tag him.

Immediately fascination set in, and the young man's tongue, as if by magic, spontaneously began to move.

"Do you think me lost?" he asked, and an easily perceptible grin played across his face.

"Yes, sir!" she replied, "you are lost in Atlanta on Tag day without a tag." This seemed to please him and, becoming excited over the situation, his tongue lost its smoothness. There was no longer philosophy in his utterances. His tongue became uncontrollable, and when he meant to pass her the delicate compliment of calling her a fair damsel, he, most discouragingly, called her a "dam fairzel." Powerful slip of the tongue! No success in love. Utter failure, and untold embarrassment! But worst of all, a forthy "cap" was standing nearby, and heard it all. The reader may surmise the remainder.

"Back to the Farm," Sounds Good Declares "Little Joe" Brown

By Cranston G. Williams.

Will the popular call of today, "back to the farm," govern the future of Governor Joseph M. Brown, whose term of office expires in a few weeks? Speculation is rife in political circles as to the correct answer for this query, although surmises are on all hands with no direct statement as to the governor's course when he loosens himself from the duties of Georgia's chief executive.

Governor Brown greets the question with a smile and the comment that it is too far ahead to speculate on his public life, especially as any election that he might interest himself in takes place a good many months off.

The governor is very ready to say that he will immediately return to his farm in Cobb county when Hon. John M. Slaton takes the oath of office. His private affairs have suffered to a great extent because of the necessary time he has devoted to the duties of his office, and his first task will be to devote himself to this work.

"Georgia has had too much politics in the last few years, and they deserve a rest," was the comment made on Georgia's present political situation by Governor Brown. Continuing, he said: "The primaries, and so many of them, have diverted the minds of the hard-working people of the state. In these modern days of telegraph, telephone and rural free delivery the people in the country can learn of politics and make up their minds just as quick as the citizen of the large cities."

"Nobody in the state can unravel the political future, and with this fact, it would be useless for one to commit himself as to his prospective course in politics. Although my present plans are to go back to my farm, and there look after my private affairs."

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND BAPTIST CONFERENCE

By A. W. Powers, Jr.

The ministers of the Atlanta Baptist churches held their conference Monday morning at the First Baptist church. Thirty-five clergymen were in attendance, as well as a large number of visitors who were on their way to the National Baptist conference in St. Louis, Mo.

Rev. Charles W. Daniel, of the First Baptist church, reported a great revival at Griffin. There were other encouraging reports from the churches and Sunday schools of the city and state.

The completion of the plans in reference to the challenge of the Methodist Sunday schools of Atlanta, has been postponed until after the conference at St. Louis.

FIGHT TO CLIMB TO THE TOP IS ADVICE OF ASA G. CANDLER TO COLLEGE JOURNALISTS

By L. E. McKellar.

"Climb to the top of the mountain, for that's where the world needs you most."

Twenty-three young men heard these words of inspiration breathed into their ambitious souls yesterday by a man who has himself climbed to the top of the mountain—Asa G. Candler, president of the board of trustees of Emory college.

The young men were the students of journalism at Emory college, and Mr. Candler's address was the feature of a luncheon at which the class was entertained in the Kimball house as guests by The Constitution, which had extended the invitation for the boys to edit the Tuesday morning's edition of The Constitution.

Mr. Candler was the only outside guest. Present from The Constitution force were Business Manager Halstead, Miss Isma Docly, Managing Editor Gortatowsky and the host, Clark Howell. With the class from Oxford came Dr. Melton, of the chair of English, who has taken such interest in this department.

Just before entering the private dining-room the twenty-three students gave nine rahs for The Constitution and Mr. Howell with much enthusiasm.

Mr. Howell introduced Mr. Candler, who addressed the company. Mr. Candler's talk was a gem of fatherly advice, and was listened to with earnest ears by every one of the young men gathered around the table.

A Vast Training Ground.

"You are in the midst of a wonderful opportunity in your college work, and you should strive to get out of it every bit that you can," said Mr. Candler. "While I never had a chance of attending college myself, and got most of my learning from the plow and the furrow, still I have come to realize since then what a vast training ground the college is, and I have been doing all I can to encourage this phase of American life, and I am going to do more for Emory—something that I hope will ever link my name with it's glorious work.

"Now, in your youth, you are getting the inspiration for great work and accomplishment. When you get out into business you must fight your way upward in spite of the snags and cliffs that will beset your path. If a mountain rises before you, put it behind you by climbing to the top.

Praises The Constitution.

"And just here let me say," continued Mr. Candler, "that you have come to the right place to get the best insight of all that is best in modern journalism. I refer to The Atlanta Constitution (Applause.) In all these years it has stood for everything that is best in southern tradition and for southern advancement. It is as much a part of our fundamental system here in Georgia as the state constitution itself. It was an inspiration for The Constitution to send for these Emory boys to show them the inside workings of a great newspaper, and it is a rare privilege for every boy who is here to take advantage of this opportunity." (Applause.)

Miss Docly spoke of the woman's department, and how it began and ended in home affairs. This phase of the newspaper is now one of the most important.

Mr. Halstead and Mr. Gortatowsky responded, each representing his department. Mr. Halstead reminded the boys that there is room at the top to the field of journalism. Plenty of good jobs are waiting for the right men.

Mr. Howell Talks.

Mr. Howell said The Constitution had great pleasure in extending the courtesies of the day and hoped it might become an annual day with the Emory students. If the day gave pleasure, or the least inspiration, he would be most happy. The world needs men as never before; men who can do things, and in every field. Not men of genius, but men who are reliable and willing to work. The average man who works and does things is far better than a genius who will not work. Genius is not inborn alone, but it may be cultivated. The thing to do is to get hold of one's self and do his best. Soon he will go to the job next above, and then another rise, until he arrives at the top. This is true in every business. "I intended to say that," put in Mr. Candler, "and its the truth!"

Dr. Melton responded, thanking Mr. Howell for his courtesy and kindness. He said he thought two days in The Constitution offices would be worth as much as nine months in the class room. "This visit gives me a new view, a new inspiration. This is the practical and real side," Dr. Melton said. "The newspaper is one of the greatest agencies for education, for it does the work of preacher, teacher and molder of morals. Some early day, no doubt, a chair of journalism will be established in every university."

JUDGE NEWMAN HOME FROM COLUMBUS COURT

By F. L. Buxton.

Judge W. T. Newman, of the northern district of Georgia, has returned to the city from Columbus, where he was in attendance at the western division of the United States court. Other officials who were in attendance at the court and have returned are District Attorney Tate, Assistant Attorney Henley, United States Marshal Johnson and Deputy Clerks J. D. Steward and F. Beers.

BANKRUPTCY PETITIONS FILED IN U. S. COURT

By F. L. Buxton.

Two voluntary petitions in bankruptcy were filed in the United States court yesterday.

William C. Black filed a petition showing liabilities of $814, with no assets, and no occupation given.

The petition of Dewey W. Wilkins shows liabilities amounting to $4,421.66, of which $3,400 is secured, $986.66 unsecured, and the remaining amount of $35 are notes and bills. His assets amount to $3,600.

Directors of Central.

Savannah, Ga., May 12.—The annual meeting of the directors of the Central of Georgia railroad and of the Ocean Steamship company will be held tomorrow morning. President Charles W. Markham will preside over both meetings.

Phone your want ads and replies to Main 5000 or Atlanta 109.

GOSSIP AT CAPITOL

By Cranston G. Williams.

The state railroad commission and several prominent officials of the Southern railway and Central of Georgia railroad held a conference at the capitol yesterday to discuss the agitation of a new depot for Macon. These officials are now working on plans to improve the railroad facilities at Macon. A union station, for the use of all railroads entering the city, will probably be built as a result.

Those present at the conference besides the members of the railroad commission were: President C. H. Markham, of Chicago; Vice President W. A. Winburn, Vice President A. R. Lawson, General Manager T. S. Moise, Chief Engineer C. K. Lawrence, of the Central of Georgia railroad, and Vice President H. B. Spencer, of the Southern railway.

Quail Destroying Crops.

State Game Commissioner Jesse E. Mercer has received numerous complaints from citizens of Wilcox county to the effect that the quail of that section are becoming so numerous as to destroy the young corn, and it has become necessary to plant the fields three or four times.

Commissioner Mercer has granted the farmers permission to trap the birds, specifying the kinds of traps they may use, and directing that the birds must be fed and watered until he could take possession of them. He intends to send the birds to those sections of the state which have few quail.

To Pass on Fee System.

The state supreme court will very probably hand down its decision on the constitutionality of the law passed by the last state legislature which put the officials of Fulton county dependent upon a salary instead of fees.

Nothing has been made public or any intimation received from the higher court as to what the decision will be, but there is a general belief that the constitutionality of the law will be upheld.

United States Officers for Riverside.

Riverside Naval academy, of Gainesville, Ga., will be under partial control by the United States government immediately after the school is taken in charge by Professor Sandy Beaver and Colonel J. G. Nash, of New Smyrna, Fla.

A naval official will be detailed to inspect the school and its work. The promoters of Riverside intend making the school a plant for the training of young men.

Professor Beaver is now at the University School for Boys at Stone Mountain, but will take charge of Riverside at the opening of the next scholastic year. No announcement has been made as to Professor Beaver's successor.

L. B. Hutcheson.

The funeral of L. B. Hutcheson will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Gregg & Bond. Rev. Hugh Walker will officiate. Interment will follow at Oakland cemetery.

"Four ¼-page ads have 1½ times stronger memory-value than one full-page ad."

This statement was made by Hugo Munsterberg, professor of psychology at Harvard university. It is based on experiments made by him with advertisements on average men and women readers, and proves the value of constant repetition.

Psychology is the science of the mind. Successful merchants, consciously or unconsciously, use this science in their business. Successful salesmen use it every day. Knowledge of it enables them to influence "the other man" to the benefit of both.

When an eminent scientist like Hugo Munsterberg — a man renowned throughout the world — makes actual tests in a psychological laboratory to determine the value of certain size ads, it is surely time that you, Mr. Merchant, awoke to the value of persistency in your advertising.

One big ad, like a 13-inch gun, will make a "big noise," but the noise soon dies. But many medium-size ads published in a good newspaper like The Constitution, like many Springfield rifles fired one after the other, will attract more attention.

Don't splurge with one big ad, but urge with many medium-size ads, and you'll get more business.

Bill Smith must get some good hurlers, and quickly, too. Things have gone far enough. The experimental stage has passed. The club is losing too regularly.

BILLY MUST GET SOME PITCHERS QUICK

WHIFFS

Time for Action.

BILL SMITH must get some "real" for experimenting is passed. The present ball club is a good one in every respect but in the box. Game after game is being lost here, and the team will forget how to make runs after a while, if a five-run lead is not sufficient for a team to win. Quit experimenting, Billy, and go out and get some hurlers that can deliver the goods. (We would like to hear from the "expert" who says the yell for more pitchers is a bit premature.)

A Wretched Stuff.

OUTSIDE of Brady and Price, the Crackers have no pitchers who can be depended upon, unless Musser can get some semblance of his early-season form. If he rounds into form, Billy does not need but two pitchers. If he does not, Bill needs three, and the sooner they can be landed. The Crackers are too good a ball club to be handicapped by such pitching as they have been having of late.

Bill Is Vindicated.

BILLY SMITH has been vindicated. When he refused to take Douglas Harbison back from the New York American some fans raised a howl that went to the skies. But the Chattanooga Lookouts have given the ex-Cracker his walking papers and in so doing have vindicated Bill and his opinion of Harbison and his ball playing ability. Bill very seldom misses one.

Sign Two New Ones.

KIL ELBERFELD is strengthening his ball club. He has secured two new players, one an outfielder named Belcher, and another an infielder named Williams. The former will go to left field and the latter to third base. Gillespie being relegated to utility roles and Harbison released.

How Now, Roger?

ROGER BRESNAHAN must "view with alarm" the rise of the Cardinals with Miller Huggins handling the whip and spur. Not only is Huggins smashing Roger's predictions, but he is likely to show up the maladministration of the club under Bresnahan. Roger once predicted dire failure for Huggins, called him "snake-in-the-grass," and "job hunter" and otherwise belittled the Cards' new leader.

Wager On Golfer.

CAN A GOLFER tee a ball on the home plate at the Polo grounds and drive it over the centerfield fence 185 yards away? John J. McGraw and members of the New York Giants are willing to bet that he cannot, because the ball players cannot drive a ball over it. If the fence is only that distance away, we would be willing to wager a small sized bet that a golfer of average driving ability can accomplish it. If Clarence Knowles, the local crack, was the man attempting the feat, we would bet he would drive it over every time in the five trials permitted in the contest.

College Protege.

DAVE ROBERTSON, the great right fielder of the Mobile Gulls, is a college protege. He attended the North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical college two years ago, where he was a member of the baseball and football teams. When he first broke into professional baseball, he was in the Tidewater league as a pitcher. But his batting ability was too valuable, and they turned him to an outfielder. Here he attracted the attention of the scouts and McGraw's gum shoe artists beat the others to the stuff.

Original Come Back.

CY FALKENBURG, of the Cleveland Naps, is the original "come back" of the season. The big right-hander has come into his own at last. Cy has started with times ago, where he was has been returned the winner. He and Vean Gregg are keeping the Cleveland Naps in the race this season.

A Disappearance

MOLESWORTH is worrying about the disappearance of Outfielder Bodus, the youngster whom he picked up this spring. He sold Bodus to Wheeling, but since the trade was made, no trace of Bodus could be found. As he had a case of home sickness before he was let go, it is presumed that he went to his home in Milwaukee.

Ready June 1.

RAY BOYD, the Birmingham pitcher, will be ready for duty June 1. The Birmingham fans sent the big fellow to Bonesetter Reese for treatment, getting together a purse to defray all expenses and the famous specialist has notified the fans that he will have Boyd working again the first of next month. The Magville rooters deserve such success in their efforts.

It Is To Be Hoped.

"WALLOP" SMITH was not badly hurt Sunday. This is joyous news to Atlanta fandom, who feared that their big third sacker and a tower of strength of the team would be out for a long while. If Smith was lost at this time, it would be a great blow to the chances of the team.

Anniston 18, LaGrange 5.

Anniston, Ala., May 12.—(Special.)—In a game that was almost a farce Anniston defeated LaGrange on their home diamond by a score of 18 to 3. LaGrange pitched Beasley, who was wild, relieved him with Nelson, who went to pieces, and then put in Clarke, their second baseman, who pitched the balance of the game. Twenty-two errors were made by the LaGrange team.

Opelika 8, Newnan 3.

Newnan, Ga., May 12.—Opelika defeated Newnan this afternoon by the score of 8 to 3. The game was featured by three home runs, Swarts and Ery each poking one over for the visitors and Manager Bagwell making the circuit for the locals. Hits, Newnan 19, Opelika 8; errors, Newnan 2, Opelika 1.

Batteries — Newnan, Hawkins and Chase; Opelika, Murphy, Ery and Allen.

Turtles Overcome Five-Run Lead and Beat Locals 8 to 5; Errors Help in the Downfall

By Herbert Caldwell.

Memphis, Tenn., May 12.—(Special.) After scoring five runs in the third inning, while the locals failed to tally, Atlanta lost to Memphis in the opening game of the series, score 8 to 5.

A batting fest in the seventh inning, in which Bill Chappelle, making his Cracker debut, was driven to the showe r changed the tide of defeat into victory. Purchner, who followed, tended runners on the lanes and Merritt's triple, scoring two, finished him, so far as victory was concerned. Chappelle was hit hard throughout, but not until the seventh did the home team get to him consecutively.

Wolfe Back Today.

Harry Bailey got back in the game today, playing right, though he limped at all times. A long double, which netted a run, marked Bailey's re-entrance into the game. Smith was not on third, his turned ankle being in such shape that it was considered inadvisable to use him, but he'll be back in the fray on Tuesday. Bill Smith sent Rohe to third and the veteran played fine ball except for his failure to stop a throw from the outfield, the mistake resulting in a run after the game had been nailed away.

Parsons pitched for Memphis, and, with the exception of the third, was a baffling puzzle. An error on Graham's grounder started the fun. Chappelle fanned for the first out. Long singled, and Agler, essaying a bunt, went out to the catcher, his effort resulting in a pop fly.

With two out, Alpermann hit to left, scoring Graham. Welchonce followed with a brisk bingle and two runners scrambled home. On Bailey's long hit to left, Welchonce scored. Rohe drew life on Shanley's error, but was forced for the third out at second on Bisland's infield roller. Thereafter Parsons settled and the Crackers that reached base were few and far between.

Turtles' Big Round.

Turtle tallies were registered in the fifth, sixth and seventh. It was the scoring in clusters that made the seventh ornate that beat Smith's squad. Seabough singled as a starter. Parsons laid down a bunt and Alpermann, covering first, missed the throw. Shanley dumped another bunt and Graham threw wild, Seabough scoring. On Baerwald's third hit Parsons scored. Here Chappelle retired in favor of Furchner, the ex-Mobile slabbist. He retired Love and things began to look brighter, Evans and Moore ruined it, and dumped a mean bounding hit through the infield, scoring Shanley with the tying run.

The rest was easy. Merritt tripled, scoring two runners, and counted himself when Rohe failed to flag the throw to third.

Mobile, Ala., May 12.—After Mobile had bombarded Fieharty for four runs in the first, Williams succeeded, and held Mobile safe, Nashville playing a fine game and winning out in the eleventh inning, score 5 to 4. Callahan's hitting won for the visitors. In the first he hit over the fence for a home run, and after Nashville had made one more in the fourth, he came back with another homer in the seventh, scoring a man ahead of him and tieing the score. In the eleventh it was his single that scored Noyes with the winning run for Nashville. Williams allowed Mobile one hit in eleven innings, Fieharty being taken out with none retired in the first.

Lookouts 4, Pelicans 2.

New Orleans, May 12.—The wildness of Swindell and Brenton in the first two third innings was largely responsible for Chattanooga's victory in the first of the series here today, 4 to 2. More was also wild. He allowed a single and two bases on balls in the ninth inning. Covaleskie replaced him and Spencer, a left-hand batsman, was withdrawn. Swindell gave bases on balls to the first two batsmen who faced him, and was taken out in the first inning. With the bases full in the third, Brenton gave a base on balls, forcing in a run.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE

Brunswick 2, Thomasville 1.

Thomasville, Ga., May 12.—(Special.) Brunswick won the first game of the Empire State league this afternoon by a score of 2 to 1. Brilliant pitching by Meyers and Hawkins made it a splendid exhibition. The winning run was scored in the eighth on two errors, a sacrifice and Bundy's two-base hit down the first base line. Murphy's catch of Texas Sears saved the game. Meyers struck out eight and Hawkins six. Neither side earned their runs.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Brunswick . . . .000 100 010—2 5 1
Thomasville . .100 000 000—1 5 4

Cordele 7, Valdosta 0.

Cordele, Ga., May 12.—(Special.)—Cordele played her first shut-out and errorless game of the season against Valdosta this afternoon, the score standing 7 to 0. This is also the second shut-out game since the opening of the Empire State league. The home team began rapping on the pill from the start, hitting Tillman freely, while Fillengin's spitball held the Valdosta bunch at his mercy throughout, featuring the game with his twirling. Valdosta only reached the third sack once and the second twice, and at no time was there danger of a score for them.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Waycross 6, Americus 0.

Waycross, Ga., May 12.—(Special)—Vanderlip had Americus well in hand today, giving up only three hits and Waycross won her fourth straight game 6 to 0. It gave Waycross undisputed possession of first place. Smith, for Americus, had a bad first inning, walking three, hitting one and giving up three hits. After that he settled down and pitched a good game. Outfielders got sixteen of the putouts today, all starring in their work. In the third, Manager Griffin, for Americus, fell over Chaney in right, but caught the high fly he was after. Brouthers and Wahoo led the batting, getting two hits apiece out of three times up. Chaney, for Americus, got two of the three hits, one a two-bagger.

Marist Specials Win.

The Marist Specials are still traveling at a fast clip. Their latest victims were the Boy Scouts Camp 3, who were drubbed 9 to 6.

Perry Adair's work at third for the Specials was easily the brightest spot in their fielding game, while the battery work of Lidell and Wrigley was invincible.

The Scouts played good ball, but could do nothing with "Gene" when hits meant runs.

Will Georgia Reverse Count When Teams Play in Atlanta?

Will Georgia reverse the dope when they play Tech in Atlanta on Friday and Saturday?

This is the most interesting question baseball fans have to ponder over at present.

The dope on these two teams goes astray so badly that it is useless to try to figure in advance just what will happen in any one game or series of games that they may play.

Witness the result of the two games in Athens. No one expected Tech to win both games, although there was several who really thought that the Jackets would break even in the series.

Stranger things have happened, and it would not be at all surprising to some to see the Red and Black play great ball in the two games here, and wallop Heisman's crew.

A well known Georgia alumnae and a star of former years, whose name will not be mentioned here for several reasons, said yesterday:

"If Georgia plays the same kind of baseball in the two games in Atlanta, they can hope for nothing better than to have two more defeats scored against them."

Reports from both camps are to the effect that Monday's workouts were the most strenuous the teams have ever been put through.

Tech is working to maintain the fine point at which the team has traveled in the last four games, while Georgia is striving to regain the steam roller stride that marked their work early in the season.

BIRMINSHAM BREAKS SMALL BONE IN LEG

Cleveland Manager Out for a Month—Nap Lajoie Is Also Out for Awhile.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 12.—In sliding into second base in the ninth inning of today's game with New York, Manager Joe Birmingham broke a bone in his instep and the tibia of his right leg, it was disclosed by an examination tonight. The injuries may keep him out of his position in center field for a month, it is thought.

As he slid his toe caught in the dirt, and bent backwards, causing the bones to snap. He limped from the field, putting a runner on the base in his place.

With Second Baseman Lajoie also out of the game with a broken bone in each hand, the regular line-up will be seriously affected.

TECH-GEORGIA TRACK MEET CALLED OFF

Athens, Ga., May 12—(Special.)—The scheduled track meet today between the University of Georgia and the Georgia Tech track men was called off at the last moment.

No reason is assigned for the postponement.

OLSON AND NUNAMAKER FINED BY JOHNSON

Chicago, May 12.—Third Baseman Olson, of the Cleveland club, and Catcher Nunamaker, of the Boston team, were each fined $25 today by President Johnson, of the American league, for their part in the recent free-for-all fight between members of the two nines at Cleveland. Olson and Nunamaker were considered leaders, and none of the other players reported to have participated in the fight was penalized.

TRAP SHOOTERS AT MONTGOMERY

Montgomery, Ala., May 12.—Almost 100 trap shooters, many of whom are the most celebrated of the world, started in the preliminary practice early this afternoon preparatory to the eighth annual handicap of the Southern Interstate Trap Shooters' association, which will be opened at the grounds of the Capital City Gun club, miles from Montgomery, tomorrow morning.

On Tuesday the real big show opens up, and there will be ten events of 15 targets each.

A special event, consisting of 25 double targets, is also scheduled.

The tournament will continue three days. On Wednesday there will be five events of 20 targets each.

Thursday will be ushered in with five events of 20 targets each, and will be followed by the big southern handicap.

YALE NINE HAS WON FOURTEEN IN ROW

Boston, May 12.—The work of the Yale nine continues to be the feature of the inter-collegiate baseball season, although the Navy aggregation is coming into commanding attention.

Yale's victory over Pennsylvania in their third meeting on Saturday, after fourteen exciting innings, marked the Blue's fourteenth straight victory. Its only defeats have been two by the Giants and an early season contest with Pennsylvania.

The Navy has won eight out of ten games. The middies fell before the "medics" of Johns Hopkins on Saturday in a 5 to 3 contest.

Dartmouth will endeavor to break Yale's string of victories on Wednesday, and Holy Cross, which defeated Harvard last week, will go to New Haven on Saturday.

AUSTRALIAN TENNIS TEAM IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, May 12.—Australia's lawn tennis team, which is in this country to play America next month in the preliminary round for the Davis cup, arrived here this afternoon.

The visitors will practice at the Huntingdon Valley club until Thursday, after which they will use the courts at Marlon Cricket club.

ST. LOUIS OWNERS ASK LENIENCY FOR STOVALL

St. Louis, May 12.—President Ban Johnson, of the American league, today will receive a letter from directors of the St. Louis club asking, it is understood, leniency in the punishment to be meted out to George Stovall, suspended as manager of the local team because he jerked an umpire's cap off and spat on him.

PEACOCK-FLEET PLAYS G. M. A. TODAY

Much interest is centered in today's battle between the Peacock-Fleet school and Georgia Military academy nines of the Prep league.

This is the second game between these two teams, the first one having been copped by the College Park cadets.

The defeat recently handed out to Tech High school by the Fourteenth street lads makes them slightly the favorites in today's battle, and it promises to be a good exhibition.

The game will be played on Peacock's diamond at Piedmont Park—just north of the Driving club—and a good crowd is expected to be out.

MOTORCYCLE RIDERS PRACTICE THURSDAY

Surface of Jack Prince's Saucer Will Be Completed—All the Riders Will Be Here.

McNeal, Lockner, Shields and Lewis, the advance guard of the motorcycle riders who will race on Jack Prince's quarter-mile saucer on the old Jackson street circus grounds, will be joined by about ten others today or tomorrow.

The surface of the big saucer will be ready by Thursday and the first practice spins can be engaged in then.

By the middle of next week the seating arrangement will be completed and everything will be in tip-top shape for the opening events, which will come off May 23.

SOUTH ATLANTIC

Scouts 2, Foxes 1.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 12.—Grover was in grand form this afternoon, as was Morrow, and the game went for ten innings, when Jacksonville won 2 to 1. Grover allowed but four hits, while Morrow was found for only six half-dozen. Melchoir's hitting featured, he getting two doubles and a single. A catch by Maurer off Thompson in the ninth inning was the filleding feature.

The score: R. H. E.
Columbia . . . 010 000 000 0—1 4 2
Jacksonville. . 000 001 000 1—2 6 1

Batteries: Morrow and Krebs; Grover and Smith. Time, 1:45. Umpire, Barr.

Indians 5, Gulls 0.

Savannah, Ga., May 12.—Savannah gained a four-run lead in the first inning of the opener of the series with Charleston here today and, with Pool pitching shut-out ball, was never threatened. The score was 5 to 0.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Savannah. . . . .400 100 00x—5 10 0
Charleston. . . . .000 000 000—0 2 3

Batteries—Pool and Giebel; Ridgeway and Menefee. Time, 1:30. Umpires, Glatts and Pender.

Congratulations.

Congratulations are in order today. Jimmy Archer, the great catcher of the Chicago White Sox, celebrates his thirtieth birthday today.

M'CARTY STARTS WORK FOR PELKEY BATTLE

Calgary, Alberta, May 12.—Luther McCarty, who meets Arthur Pelkey in a ten-round bout here May 24, arrived last night from New York. He will get into good shape in two weeks, he said. He will open training quarters this afternoon.

Pelkey has been working with Tommy Burns for ten days, and already is showing great improvement.

Odds have shortened to 10 to 7, with McCarty the choice.

BROWNS MUST PAY.

O'Connor Due Year's Salary for Being Fired.

St. Louis, May 13.—The St. Louis American League Baseball club must pay Jack O'Connor $5,000, the amount he would have received in salary had he not been discharged as manager prior to the 1910 season, a jury in the circuit court decided tonight.

The trial, which had occupied the court all day, came to a close with unexpected suddenness. The jurors were out only thirty minutes.

O'Connor was called to the stand in rebuttal as the last witness. He denied the testimony of Sidney Cook and Julius Cronhelm, baseball writers, that they had, from the grand stand, overheard O'Connor give orders that enabled Napoleon Lajoie, of the Cleveland team, to almost tie the batting average of Ty Cobb for the 1910 season. Cook testified that he heard O'Connor instruct Pitcher Malloy to give bases on balls to certain Cleveland batters and in one instance heard him instruct Malloy to hit Manager McGuire, of Cleveland, with the ball. Malloy, the witness said, hit Manager McGuire. The effect of these instructions, the witness said, was to bring Lajoie to bat every other inning.

Cook also testified that he heard O'Connor swear at Third Baseman Corriden for getting his hand on a ball hit by Lajoie, thus causing Lajoie to be credited only with a sacrifice.

Julius Cronhelm, who sat in the grand stand with Cook, testified that he heard the instructions of the players similar to those testified to by Cook, but said he was not as sure of the voices of the speakers as was his companion.

A deposition filed in the case today by President Ban Johnson, of the American league, stated that Johnson ordered the dismissal of O'Connor on the ground that he had instructed Third Baseman John Corriden to play back of the base when Napoleon Lajoie was at bat for Cleveland, thereby enabling Lajoie to run up his batting record.

President Hedges, of the St. Louis team, denied he discharged O'Connor at the order of Ban Johnson. He also said that between $500,000 and $700,000 had been invested in the St. Louis Americans and that in the last three years $100,000 had been spent in strengthening the team. Mr. Hedges said he attended the double-header in question and at the time made no protest at the work of the St. Louis players.

Lanett Wins.

The Lanett Cotton Mills defeated the strong Longdale club today by the score of 12 to 0 in a very one-sided game, featured by the good hitting and team work of Lanett. Holladay struck out seventeen men and allowed two hits.

INMAN AND BULL WIN CHEVY CHASE TENNIS

Washington, May 12.—A brilliant victory by F. C. Inman and C. M. Bull, Jr., of New York, over Wallace Johnson, of Philadelphia, and George Zinn, of Montpelier, Vt., in the final round of doubles featured today's play in the sixth annual open tennis tournament of the Chevy Chase club.

By their victory they gained the right to challenge C. B. Doyle and H. E. Doyle, of Washington, the title holders. This match will be played tomorrow. Inman and Bull will oppose each other in the finals of the men's singles on Wednesday, the winner to play C. E. Doyle for the eastern championship on Thursday.

Adairsville 10, Rome 1.

Adairsville, Ga., May 12.—(Special.) The Adairsville team defeated a picked team here today from Rome by the score of 10 to 1. The batting and pitching of Franklin was the feature, getting three hits out of four times at bat, letting his opponents down with one hit and striking out 11 men.

| Score by innings: | R. | H. | E. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Adairsville . . . . 011 503 000—10 | 6 | 2 | |

AMERICAN.

St. Louis, Mo., May 12.—Groom was in great form today and easily beat St. Louis, Washington winning 2 to 0. Mitchell pitched great ball for St. Louis, but an error by Pratt allowed Washington to score in the second. Groom tripled after two were out and scored when Pratt fumbled Moeller's grounder. Moeller took second on a balk and scored on Schaefer's single. Washington had numerous chances to score in the later innings, but Mitchel always tightened up with men on bases.

Batteries: Mitchell and McAllister; Groom and Henry. Time, 1:45. Umpires, O'Loughlin and Ferguson.

Tigers 8, Red Sox 7.

Detroit, May 12.—Fighting an uphill battle all the way and tieing the score in the eighth inning with four hits which produced three runs, Detroit today defeated Boston 8 to 7 in the second game of the series. The contest was marked by hard hitting when hits were needed most.

Detroit used three pitchers and Boston two. Lake twirled the last two innings for the locals and successfully stopped the attack of the champions, while Wood, who succeeded Leonard, was the victim of the winning rally. Three hits brought Boston three runs in the second after Bush gave Detroit a tally in the first by stealing home. In the fourth Cobb slid safely across the plate, although the ball had been returned to Carrigan ahead of the runner. Four hits, including triples by Leonard and Engle, gave Boston four runs in the seventh. Sheer slugging enabled Detroit to tie the score. Bush brought home the winning run in the ninth when Cobb sent a sacrifice fly to Lewis.

Batteries: Leonard, Wood, Carrigan and Cady; House, Klawitter, Lake, Stanage and Rondeau. Time, 2:13. Umpires, Dineen and Hart.

Athletics 3, White Sox 0.

Chicago, May 12.—Chicago outhit Philadelphia today but the luck of the game broke in favor of the visitors, and the locals were shut out, 3 to 0. Russell outpitched the veteran Bender, but the fielding behind the Indian more than overcame this, while that behind Russell was weak.

Philadelphia earned but one of its runs; that was in the sixth when Oldring's double, a sacrifice and Baker's single registered a tally. Three times Chicago got men as far as third base, but failed to deliver a hit in the pinch, even though Manager Callahan called in his pinch hitters, Easterly and Borton.

Yanks 4, Naps 3.

Cleveland, O., May 12.—Profiting by Cleveland's errors New York won today's game 4 to 3. McConnell was more effective than Gregg, except in the fourth inning, when two singles and a double scored Cleveland's three runs. Wild throws by Gregg and Chapman gave New York two runs. Two singles and Wolter's triple in the fifth scored the other two. Lajoie was out of the game with a broken thumb and finger, the result of being hit on the hand with a pitched ball yesterday.

Ex-Congressman Wise Dead.

Princess Anne, Md., May 12.—Former Congressman John S. Wise, of Virginia, died today at the summer residence, near here, of his son, United States District Attorney Henry A. Wise. Mr. Wise was born at Rio Janeiro, Brazil, seventy-three years ago. His father, Henry A. Wise, was United States minister to Brazil at the time.

G. O. P. ELEPHANT TO BE HARNESSED

that "it meant just what it said, but that no lengthy talk had been indulged in about 'inviting' members of the progressive party to return to the republican ranks."

As chairman of the conference, Senator Sherman, of Illinois, was authorized to appoint a committee of five members who, with the statement given out today as a basis, are to draft an address to the public and to the members of the national committee.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, is opposed to calling a republican national conference. He has asserted that it would be useless to attempt to reorganize from the top down, as the meeting held at this time would be controlled by the same men who dominated the convention last June.

He was the center of discussion when he advanced a plan for the direct election of delegates to national conventions, standing practically alone on this issue.

Hostility to National Committee.

Hostility to the present national committee has been openly expressed by several of the progressives. Senator Kenyon's statement that most of us would have no objection "to most of the national committee resigning" is backed up by Senator Sherman of Illinois, who said:

"The feeling is that the national committee should be less inflexible and more amenable to public opinion. One of the aims of the conference is to curtail the powers of the existing national committee. Interviews have disclosed that the consensus of opinion favors following the rule adopted by the progressive and democratic national conventions, providing that members of the national committee shall assume their duties immediately upon election, instead of waiting until the dissolution of the committee at the close of the national convention. By such an arrangement the new committeemen would handle the credentials of the 1916 convention."

The attendance of Senator Gronna, of North Dakota, is said to have the disapproval of Senator La Follette, who is not in sympathy with the gathering. The two have been strong political allies and it is reported that the determination of Senator Gronna to attend has caused dissension.

Stripes for Bank Officers.

New Orleans, May 12.—Eugene F. Buhler and Joseph H. Gomilla, convicted officers of the defunct Tentonia Bank and Trust company, which failed on April 15, 1912, with a loss of more than half a million dollars to depositors and stockholders, will have to serve the seven years' prison terms imposed by the trial court. The supreme court today affirmed the judgment of the lower court.

NATIONAL.

Dodgers 4, Reds 3.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 12.—The Brooklyns made it two straight from Cincinnati today, winning 4 to 3. Brooklyn took a lead of three runs off Johnson by hard hitting in the second and fourth inning. Rucker had a bad inning in the fifth and before he could settle down Cincinnati had the score tied. With one out, Maranas walked and Grant was safe on an error by Daubert. Singles by Clarke, Johnson and Bates followed rapidly. Three runs resulted. Rucker then pulled himself together and two force-outs checked the visitors. Brooklyn came right back with the winning run in its half of the fifth on hits by Miller and Rucker, Berghamer's wild throw and a wild pitch.

| Score by innings: | R. | H. | E. |

| Cincinnati . . . . 000 030 000—3 | 7 | 1 | |
| Brooklyn . . . . . 020 110 00x—4 | 8 | 1 | |

Batteries: Johnson, Brown and Clarke; Rucker and Miller. Time, 1:32. Umpires, Rigler and Byron.

Giants 5, Cubs 1.

New York, May 12.—New York today knocked Lew Richie out of the box in five innings and won from Chicago with ease. The score was 5 to 1. In the five innings Richie pitched, New York made 10 hits for a total of 17 bases. Meyers started Richie's downfall in the fourth when he tripled, scoring Merkle and Herzog, and tallied himself on Shafer's single. Mathewson pitched his usual strong game for New York, holding Chicago to 3 hits. The Cubs scored their only run in the seventh when Zimmerman singled and came all the way home when the ball got away from Shafer.

Manager Evers was put off the field in the fourth inning for protesting a decision at second base. He reappeared in centerfield in the eighth and the umpire would not allow the game to continue until he left the field.

| Score by innings: | R. | H. | E. |

| Chicago . . . . 000 000 100—1 | 3 | 0 | |
| New York . . . . 000 320 00x—5 | 10 | 2 | |

Batteries: Richie, Leifield and Archer; Mathewson and Meyers. Time 1:23. Umpires Klem and Orth.

Phillies 6, Pirates 5.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 12.—Philadelphia defeated Pittsburg in an eleven-inning contest today 6 to 5. Lobert scoring the decided run by reaching third when Wilson fumbled his single and Magee sending a sacrifice to Wyatt. Pittsburg took a lead of two runs in the first inning, but the home team forged ahead in the fifth on Paskert's triple, Knabe's double and Magee's home run. A single by Butler, three errors and two sacrifices gave the visitors two more runs in the sixth. Kelly scored in the eighth on his triple and Carey's single. A pass to Doolin and B. Miller's double scored the former in the eighth. Knabe's home run tied the score in the ninth. Mayer, who succeeded Moore in the ninth, held Pittsburg safe, while O'Toole took Adams' place in the sixth.

| Score by innings: | R. | H. | E. |

Batteries: Adams, O'Toole and Kelley; Moore, Mayer and Doolin. Time 2:40. Umpires Brennan and Eason.

Doves 6, Cards 4.

Boston, May 12.—Maranville, Boston's diminutive shortstop, continued his brilliant playing today. His triple in the fifth inning with men on first and second bases put the locals ahead, and his fielding kept them there. The score was Boston 6, St. Louis 4. Boston was outhit by St. Louis 14 to 8, but Rudolph, who made his debut for the locals, succeeding Gervais in the fourth, kept the visitors' hits scattered.

Polo Ponies Arrive.

New York, May 12.—Forty-four polo ponies, which will be ridden by members of the English team in the international matches with the American four at the field at Meadow Brook, Long Island, in June, arrived tonight aboard the steamer Minneapolis from London. The ponies will be quartered at the Piping Rock Country club, where the English team will practice.

PRINCETON WINNER VARSITY BOAT RACE

Cambridge, Mass., May 12.—Princeton showed aquatic strength and skill today by outrowing Harvard and the University of Pennsylvania in a 1 7-8-mile race down the Charles river.

It was a stern chase by the winners most of the way, for their start was poor. Pennsylvania was overhauled at the half-way mark and Harvard a mile down the course. Then Princeton gradually drew away and had a length to the good at the finish, Pennsylvania finished three lengths behind Harvard.

The times: Princeton, 10 minutes 18 seconds; Harvard, 10 minutes 22 seconds; Pennsylvania, 10 minutes 34 seconds.

Harvard caught the water first at the start and had a lead of 10 feet over Pennsylvania at the first quarter, while Princeton was half a length astern. It was a pretty race to the mile mark, when Princeton went to the fore and gradually increased its lead.

A quarter-mile from the finish Harvard spurted, but Princeton met the dash and even bettered its lead, although there was not quite open water between the shells as they crossed the line.

The victory was the first success that has come to Princeton in a triangular contest since rowing was resumed there four years ago.

YOUNG DENNY WINS OVER RAY BRONSON

New Orleans, La., May 12.—Young Denny, local welterweight, had slightly the better of a ten-round bout with Ray Bronson, of Indianapolis, here tonight. It was a no-decision contest. Denny scored a knock-down in the second round, but Bronson was up in a moment. Both finished in good shape.

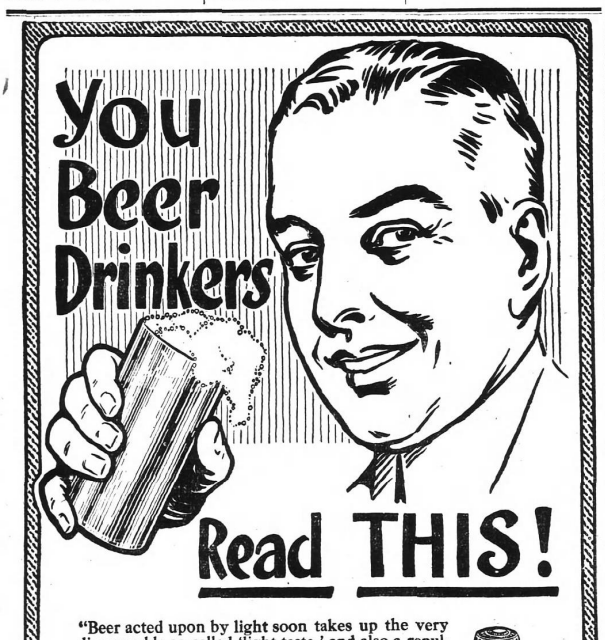
You Beer Drinkers



Read THIS!

"Beer acted upon by light soon takes up the very disagreeable so-called 'light taste,' and also a repulsive skunk-like odor. Beer so affected is offensive to the palate of most consumers. Beer should not be exposed to light, especially to direct sunlight, as it will thereby be detrimentally affected; the light having an influence upon the albuminoids in beer, causes the beer to become hazy." gave her her pay envelope on Saturday two weeks ago and she was not seen alive after that. I am sure of his innocence and am confident he will be proven not guilty of this terrible crime."

Young Frank was employed by the National Meter company in Brooklyn before he went south to Atlanta. The Franks live in a handsome home in an exclusive neighborhood. His father is a traveling man.

William Burns Secured.

William J. Burns, heralded as America's greatest detective, is to personally begin a hunt for the murderer of Mary Phagan. Upon his arrival from Europe in New York this afternoon it is said he will come immediately to Atlanta.

Colonel Thomas B. Felder, who has been retained in the Phagan mystery by relatives and friends of the slain girl, is responsible for the engagement of the famous sleuth. Several days ago he journeyed to New York for the express purpose of consulting officials of the Burns agency.

As a result Raymond Burns, son of the noted detective, sailed his father in Europe, where the latter has been investigating the whereabouts of Wilberforce Martin, the Memphis millionaire, whose disappearance recently created international sensation. Burns wired back that he would take up the local mystery and would embark immediately for America.

Burns is scheduled to be in Atlanta Thursday en route to Macon, where he has been invited to speak before the convention of the Georgia State Bankers' association. His address, "A New Era in the Detection of Crime," is to be delivered Friday afternoon.

Has Never Failed on a Case.

The noted detective's reputation of having never personally undertaken a mystery which he did not solve, inspires hope in the thousands throughout the city and state who have become interested in the baffling case.

Mr. Felder would not disclose the source of the funds which are to employ Burns, but it is inferred that they have been obtained by subscriptions donated by friends of relatives of the slain girl, in which manner he himself was retained. Neither would he state the amount necessary to engage Burns.

No New Developments.

The Phagan mystery remained in its normal, unsolved state Monday. Although the detectives worked diligently throughout the day, no new clues were discovered or no developments unearthed. Solicitor Dorsey spent the day examining witnesses and preparing evidence at hand for submittance to the grand jury.

For the first time during his imprisonment Leo Frank was visited by his wife. Heretofore she had been too ill to reach the Tower. She remained for an hour or more and was in tears upon emerging from the prison. Frank, too, was visibly affected by the visit. He apparently is regaining the health impaired by the effect of imprisonment and the gruelling to which he was subjected by detectives and at the inquest.

The mysterious sleuth employed by Solicitor Dorsey, whose identity has never been revealed, but whose fame is said to be widespread, left the city Monday morning on some secret mission which is puzzling newspaper reporters and the detective staff at police headquarters.

Mr. Dorsey will not tell his strange detective's destination or the nature of his errand. Such an atmosphere of mystery has been created around the solicitor's sleuth that many persons are striving as hard to disclose his identity as they once strove to find the murderer.

Knows Dorsey's Sleuth.

Chief Newport A. Lanford, in charge of the detective department at police headquarters, told a reporter for The Constitution last night that he could reveal the identity of Solicitor Hugh Dorsey's mysterious sleuth who has been heralded as a "world-beater."

"He's either Detective John Starnes or Patrick Campbell," said the chief. "Both of these men are attached to the headquarters' staff, and are working under the solicitor. I believe they are the only detectives employed by Mr. Dorsey, and there's not a doubt in my mind that one of them is the mysterious sleuth."

Mr. Dorsey said:

"Campbell and Starnes are doing good work, all right, and they are capable detectives, but neither of them is the man to whom I referred when I said 'America's greatest sleuth.' For reasons best known to myself, I intend to withhold his name until the proper time for disclosures. He is out of the city at present, working on the Phagan case, and upon his return, I expect to be able to give out some startling evidence he plans to unearth."

Character Testimony.

Although three witnesses with testimony of that nature were introduced in the coroner's inquest, and detectives have obtained a park policeman as a witness, character testimony cannot be introduced by the prosecution unless Frank's character is put into issue by the defense.

This was made definitely known Monday by Solicitor Dorsey, who declared that but few efforts were being put forth to obtain evidence defendatory to the suspect's character and conduct. It has been rumored that the 100 or more employees of the pencil factory were subpoenaed, o give testimony against the superintendent's character. Only three of that number were examined. The coroner and members of his jury say, however, that such was not the intentions of his jury.

SHOT IN COW TRADE.

Franklin, Ga., May 12.—Brooks Lane, a prominent young farmer, was shot and killed today on his plantation, near here by Sam Owensby, a negro, the trouble resulting from a trade for a cow. The negro claims he shot in self-defense.

Feeling over the shooting is high and Sheriff Lee Taylor said he would probably transfer Owensby from the Heard county jail to Newnan or Atlanta for safe-keeping.

Brookhaven Sale Confirmed.

The legal sale last Tuesday of the Brookhaven club property on Peachtree road, to the Brookhaven estates for a consideration of $88,000, was confirmed Monday by Judge Ellis of the Fulton superior court.

The transfer of the property to the Capital City Club for use as a country club feature is expected within a few days. Realty men are awaiting the formal announcement of the transfer of this property with considerable interest, since a marked enhancement in realty values is expected as the result of this sale.

Brookhaven Sales.

The Charles P. Glover Realty company reports the following sales in the Brookhaven section:

A lot, 50x200, on Stewart drive, to C. S. Upson, for a consideration of $500; another lot, 149x245, in same district, on Stewart drive, to Hugh D. Ivey, for a consideration of $1,100. They also report the sale for the Realty Mortgage company to a client of two small lots on Highland avenue, just south of Greenwood, 20x80, at $50 per front foot. The same company has sold for the East Lake Realty company to Mrs. C. A. Henry a lot, 88x300, on the south side of Morgan street, at the corner of Ashburton avenue, for a consideration of $1,200.

The R. O. Cochran company has sold for W. W. Craig to Mrs. W. M. Lacy, 174 St. Charles avenue, which is priced at $7,600.

Other Realty Sales.

The Martin-Gibson Realty company has sold for A. Reeves to Paul Goldsmith 87 Luckie street for an aggregate consideration of $30,000, or $750 a front foot.

This property is directly in front of the new Y. M. C. A., which is now under construction. The lot is 40x150, with nominal improvements.

Forrest & George Adair have sold for Dr. J. B. Daniel to Malcolm E. Turner a residence property on the north side of Ponce de Leon avenue, just west of Highland avenue, for an aggregate consideration of $15,000.

This is a 2-story brick residence on a lot 80x180, and is one of the new residences Dr. Daniel has built on his extensive frontage on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Forrest & George Adair have also sold for a Mr. Schupert 58 Stokes avenue, in West End Park, a home property for $3,750.

MARVIN CONWAY HURT; STRUCK BY ELEVATOR

By H. M. Shaver.

While looking down the elevator shaft Marvin Conway, of the firm of Eberhart-Conway company, 548 Ansley C. Rhodes building, was seriously injured by the descending elevator. The accident occurred at 5:45 o'clock Monday afternoon.

A long gash was cut in the back of his head, which bled profusely until medical assistance could be obtained. The elevator was stopped just in the nick of time. If it had descended 6 inches further it would have broken his neck. Mr. Conway, after the accident, was carried to his home on Park avenue, where he is reported as out of danger.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

COOL WEATHER SOUTH MADE COTTON ADVANCE

Prices Entered New High Ground for Movement. Spot Quiet.

New York, May 12.—The cotton market developed considerable activity and strength after a comparatively featureless morning and prices made new high ground for the movement, with the close steady at a net advance of 4 to 6 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 3 points to a decline of 1 point. Owing to the holiday, there were no cables from Liverpool and the early trading here was very quiet. Reports of scattering showers in the eastern cotton belt Sunday and the official forecast for continued showers in most sections east of the river, seemed to encourage some scattered selling, but general offerings were held in check by numerous private crop complaints and continued nervousness as to the near month situation, owing to further shipments from the local stock. On the whole, consequently, prices showed little tendency until around midday, when the detailed weather reports began to come in. These confirmed private shower reports, to some extent, but indicated no general or widespread precipitation in the cotton belt, such as many feared possible, while they also showed unseasonably low temperatures, with frost noted at some points in the Carolinas.

Scattering shorts appeared to become more nervous as a result of the cold weather news and talk of delayed germination, which also proved the signal for increased support from trade bulls or reactionists and the market worked sharply higher. July contracts sold up to 11.68, the best level reached since that position touched 11.32 toward the end of April. Subsequently the months generally worked about 9 to 13 points above the closing figures of Saturday.

Realizing checked the advance and caused moderate reactions late in the trading.

Liverpool will reopen for business tomorrow but will be closed again Friday and Saturday.

Cotton, spot, closed quiet; middling uplands, 12.10; do gulf, 12.35; sales, 500 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, May 12.—The cotton market was quiet today, trading being more or less restricted by the holiday in Liverpool, but the tone was steady and in the afternoon a moderate net advance was brought about by a steady demand, which was based on new low temperatures prevailing in the cotton region, more than on anything else. Bulls were more aggressive and made an effort to force the advance; bears were encouraged by the appearance of rains in the eastern half of the belt, which were assigned the cause of the talk of cold weather.

The opening was steady at a decline of 3 to 5 points on the rain over Sunday in the Atlantic. Toward the middle of the morning, the market added 2 to 6 down, which was the low level of the day. A little later, buying orders increased on the detailed weather reports, showing an average maximum temperature for the eastern cotton belt yesterday of 60 degrees and an average minimum of 54.

In the afternoon, the market went 5 to 6 points over the level of Saturday's last quotations.

The close was steady at a net rise of 4 to 5 points.

Remarks.

In the past 48 hours light, scattered showers have occurred in portions of the central and eastern districts. Lower temperatures prevail in Arkansas and east of the Mississippi river.

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Section Director Weather Bureau.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, May 12.—While business today was very limited, prices held steady, owing to complaints of drought and cool weather from part of Mississippi and states east of there. These conditions influenced some covering and checked the tendency to sell, but in the absence of active leadership on the buying side, the demand was not continuous. However, with complaints from south Texas and the eastern belt more general as to the need of a warm soaking rain, the short interest shows some signs of nervousness.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, May 12.—In the absence of a genuine rainfall over the cotton belt the market slowly advanced some 10 points to close steady, 5 points higher than Saturday. Cold nights throughout the south is retarding germination and on that the trade is nervous a little uneasy as we approach the middle of May without having secured a good stand for cotton over the entire cotton belt.

European markets will open tomorrow and it will be interesting to see whether they follow this improvement, as they have been the buyers on weakness the market was depressed during the last two months. The local trade are not quite so bearish, although they think trade conditions in the United States will prevent any bull speculation.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, May 12.—With Liverpool closed today, the local market held steady. The sentiment has been so bearish for some time that the market has not cared to listen to anything bullish, but there is beginning to be a growing impression that the new crop is not getting the perfect start the bears have been talking about. While there was some heavy Wall street selling of October today, there were some of the shorts who were covering. As the time for the government condition reports begins to draw near, shorts of new crop months are going to begin to worry and it would also be but little to start a big covering movement, as October and December are badly oversold. The undertone was good all day, and the close was steady at a advance of 4 to 5 points.

Liverpool is due to come 2 to 3 up tomorrow.

OATS WAS ATTRACTION IN THE GRAIN TRADING

Reports That the Oats Crop Had a Bad Start Sent the Prices Up.

Chicago, May 12.—The speculative storm center in grain today moved to the oats trade. A decided flurry resulted from serious reports that the oats crop in the best parts of Indiana and Illinois had received an unthrifty start. Despite some reaction, oats closed at 1-2 to 1¼ cents net advance. Wheat finished ¼ @3-8c off to ¼ on, corn varied from ¼c down to 1-4@3-8c; grain and provisions showed an upturn of a shade to 1 2-1c.

There was a big trade in oats and shorts in all deliveries were badly squeezed. It was an old-fashioned bull market, everybody in the pit seemingly possessed with a belief that prices would go skyward. The May option led the advance. Excited shorts in that delivery quickly ran the cost up to 38c a bushel, a jump of 1 3-8c, before they could induce offerings at all free.

Wheat advanced with oats, because of a bullish outlook regarding the visible supply. The decrease in the latter, however, was somewhat disappointing as compared with last year's. Besides, today's arrivals at the principal terminals were on almost after harvest basis. Pressure also resulted from bearish crop estimates in Oklahoma and elsewhere, so that there was an easy feeling at the close. Primary receipts were 1,004,000 bushels against 513,000 bushels a year ago; exports of wheat and flour equaled 742,000 bushels.

Because of the uncertainty regarding oats, farmers were said to be withholding reserves of corn. A consequent advance in corn checked eastern demand and later brought about a material setback from top figures.

Notwithstanding larger receipts of hogs, prices for provisions averaged higher. The market was chiefly affected by the strength of grain.

BEARS MADE DRIVE IN THE STOCK MARKET

This Was in the Afternoon—Up to That Time the Market Was Listless.

New York, May 12.—Except for a bear drive, which enlivened trading for a time in the early afternoon, the stock market today was lifeless. Business in the first hour, usually the most active of the day, amounted only to 32,000 shares, which gave promise of the smallest day's trading of the year, but in half an hour's active selling later in the session the total was increased largely. Although a majority of the prominent stock sustained only fractional losses, nearly a score of new low records for the year were established and losses effected by particular influences went down by substantial amounts.

There was further pressure against the coalers, following the recent Washington reports that further action would be taken under the anti-trust law against coal-carrying companies. Jersey Central, which fell 24 points to 296, was the weakest of these issues. The sugar stocks were heavy, selling apparently being influenced by reports regarding the probable action in the sugar schedule in the new tariff bill. A number of the specialties fell from 1 to 5 points.

Bear traders attempted to force down Steel on the strength of the unexpectedly poor showing made by the monthly tonnage figures, but the stock held up well. The indication of a falling off in the steel trade, contained in the tonnage figures, was supplemented by reports of decreasing activity in other lines of business. The spread of labor troubles was cited as another bear factor. Although speculative sentiment was depressed, no determined effort was made to force down the list, while a chance remained that the supreme court might today hand down a decision in the Minnesota rate case. When word came from Washington that the court had adjourned for two weeks without announcing a decision in any of the cases of especial interest to Wall street, bear traders felt more secure in att

FILIBUSTER PLAN GETS SMALL FAVOR

Republicans Won't Back Penrose About Tariff Hearings. Rumored Some Democrats May Aid Penrose.

Washington, May 12.—Senator Penrose's plan to conduct an extensive filibuster in support of his proposal to hold open tariff hearings before the senate finance committee will not receive the unanimous following of his fellow republicans when it comes up tomorrow, according to the views of leading members. Many prominent republican senators do not believe it wise to fire their tariff guns in the preliminary fight over the question of hearings. They are willing to put the question to a vote and rest content with that. They argued that republican oratory should be conserved until the bill is before the senate and that then their efforts should be disclosed toward showing the country what the party thinks of it.

Several republicans indicated they would vote against the Penrose amendment to make the committee hold hearings.

Persistent reports about the senate today, however, that several democrats will be found voting with the majority of the republicans for the Penrose amendment and the vote in consequence is likely to be close. When Mr. Penrose made his motion Friday the republicans had enough votes to carry it, but before the senate meets tomorrow democrats who were absent are expected to be present and the first blood of the fight probably will find both sides of the senate fully represented.

Seven Democrats May Bolt.

Democrats on the finance committee were skeptical of a report that an agreement had been signed by seven western democrats who are opposed to free wool to vote against that provision of the bill in the proposed conference. The conference is still several weeks away, but democrats who keep in close touch with every phase of the situation did not believe that any such agreement has been made or is likely to be made. They declared flatly that they expected the democrats of the committee to present the bill to the senate with both the wool and sugar schedules as they were left in the house bill.

Some changes in important schedules will be made by the committee. The metal schedule, notably, will be altered. The subcommittee to which it was assigned several weeks ago met tonight with Chairman Simmons.

Chairman Simmons expects to confer with President Wilson during the present week. He will not be able to tell the president exactly what changes are likely to be made before the bill is brought up in the senate, but he probably will discuss some proposed amendments.

Senator Williams, a member of the finance committee, declared today that manufacturers who reduce wages or threaten to reduce them because of tariff reductions should be prosecuted by the department of justice under the Sherman anti-trust act.

The senator said the Sherman law had been used against laboring men who combined to increase wages and it was not more than just that it might be directed against men who conspire to reduce wages.

House to Mark Time.

The house met today to dispose of what some party leaders referred to as "chicken feed" with the announced purpose of adjourning almost immediately for three days, a beginning of regular adjournments for similar periods until the first week of June.

The idea is to mark time pending the tariff fight on the senate side of the capitol and preparation of currency legislation. Meantime the democratic majority of the ways and means committee, as the committee of committees, will meet almost daily to frame the personnel of the regular committees of the house.

President Wilson does not expect the tariff bill will be amended in any important particular. He has not suggested that any schedule be reopened; has not been informed that the senate contemplates changing the work of the house, and is confident that the measure will pass the senate. So certain is he that an end is in sight that probably he will make known informally his views on currency this week.

The president expressed these views today, but did not express himself as to whether there should be public hearings in the finance committee.

The house was in session six minutes. Even minor legislation failed to materialize and the series of three days' adjournments was begun. The house will meet next Thursday, and thereafter on Mondays and Thursday until the first week of June. Many members have gone home with an understanding that no legislation involving any disputed points shall be brought up.

GOLDSTEIN IS NAMED BY B'RITH ABRAHAM

Buffalo, N. Y., May 12.—After three hours' debate the order B'rith Abraham at its twenty-first biennial convention today approved Grandmaster Dorf's recommendation that the power of appointment of medical examiners for the order be taken out of the hands of local lodges and placed with the executive board of the grand lodge.

"Doctors elected by a lodge," said Mr. Dorf, "owe their positions to the leaders of the lodge and sometimes fear to act in accordance with their own judgment. The consequence is that men and women over age and on the verge of death are smuggled into the order. Men and women who have been in the order from one to three months have died from such diseases as consumption, Bright's disease, heart failure and other maladies."

The nominating committee made its report today. The principal officers were renominated without opposition. For the three deputy grand mastership newly created three are the sole nominees: Fourth deputy, Max Fein, of Boston; fifth deputy, J. H. Goldstein, Atlanta, Ga.; sixth deputy, Emil Cohen, San Francisco.

STREET CAR STRIKERS REFUSE TO ARBITRATE

Because the Cincinnati Traction Company Declines to Recognize the Union.

Cincinnati, May 12.—Suspension of the carmen's strike, which has paralyzed transportation in this city since Saturday, was postponed tonight, when officials of the union refused to entertain a proposition by the traction officials to arbitrate their difficulties. Union officials say they will give out a definite statement at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and in the interim propose to continue the tie-up.

The arbitration proposition was made to Mayor Hunt by Kesley Schoepf, president of the Traction company, after the latter had been in conference for many hours in the afternoon with the board of directors of the company. The company asked for an arbitration board and that the men return to work tomorrow.

No union representatives were at the meeting, but W. D. Mahon, International President of the Amalgamated Association of Electric and Street Car Employees of America; Thomas Rickert, organizer of the union, and a committee of the union, which is in charge of the strike, were later in consultation with Mayor Hunt.

They objected to the company's proposal, saying it did not meet the vital principle of recognition of their union. A counter proposition will be made by them tomorrow, the union leaders said.

Attempts of the company to operate cars today resulted in the burning of one and the desertion of five others, whose crews were beaten or forced to run to cover.

An Avondale car was burned, and its crew fled. Crews were driven from two other Avondale cars near Seventh and Sycamore streets. In the West End two John street cars were attacked and their crews beaten off.

AT THE THEATERS

"Are You a Mason?"

(At the Atlanta.)

The Billy Long Stock company, playing at the Atlanta theater, presents the side-splitting farce comedy, "Are You a Mason?" to a crowded house Monday night.

The entire play is one long laugh. There is not a dull moment from curtain to curtain. Miss Billy Long, who is rapidly winning for herself a place in the estimation of theater-goers which would be envied by many who have long since graduated from the stock company, took a leading role and greatly pleased the audience. Edwin Vall does very clever work as the leading man.

That Miss Agnes Tinsley Harrison, who made her debut with the company last week, is to be a permanent feature for the rest of the summer, will come as good news to her friends in Atlanta. Her work Monday night was pleasing. Next week she takes a very conspicuous srole in "The Deep Purple."

"Are You a Mason?" is a good laughable show.

It will be seen at the Atlanta every evening this week and at matinees on Wednesday and Friday.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Our thanks are due, our hats are off to one Paul Dickey, who yesterday won theatergoing Atlanta by presenting the best sketch in the vaudeville history of this city.

They say (we take the sporting editor's word for this) that Mr. Dickey was once upon a time a great football star at Michigan. Be that as it may, never in all the time that he donned the togs of the gridiron did he make so great a hit as at the Forsyth Monday, when with a carefully selected and most capable company he presented "The Come Back," a story of college life, telling of a joke and how it proved a boomerang.

Sketches are often bores. Mr. Dickey's is a treat. Atlanta has seen some good ones. That is not to be denied. But in comparison with this college scene we have forgotten all the rest.

Some may say, it is true, that this is hyperbole; may believe that some member of the company is a personal friend of the critic. If this should be the belief of anyone, well, the Forsyth is open to all. (Treasurer Patterson will sell one or more seats to "doubting Thomases.")

Mr. Dickey is a natural actor. More than that he has every appearance of youth, and his work is convincing. He looks, he acts the college boy, as few have the ability to present the youth who is seeking an education.

He has been fortunate, too, in the support of an excellent company, and in the presence in his cast of Inez Plummer, a dainty and most attractive miss, who plays the role of a college belle to perfection. It's no wonder, as the men in the audience think, that the hero falls in love with her.

Another act, well deserving of praise, is that of the Apollo trio, three athletes who work in bronze, reproducing famous statues of Romans and of Grecian days. Few stronger men have been seen here than the one who bears on his shoulders the weight of the other two, in many different poses.

Billy K. Wells, second on the bill, has a short, snappy number that goes well. McAlvey's jumpers are good; Mayo and Allman are enthusiastically received by the audience. Newhoff and Phelps are fair.

Clarence Wilbur and his Sunny Folks, a school act, completes the bill. This number is not Forsyth class. It slows up a good show.

State Senator Indicted.

New York, May 12.—State Senator S. J. Stilwell, indicted today for bribery on charges preferred by George A. Kendall, president of the New York Bank Note company, of which charges he was exonerated by the state senate after a hearing at Albany, surrendered in the office of District Attorney Whitman late this afternoon. Justice Seabury granted an adjournment in pleading until tomorrow. Bail in $5,000 was furnished.

DECATUR ITS EDUCATIONAL ADVANTAGES

A SECOND NEW Public School Building, costing approximately $25,000, will be erected in Decatur before September. The site has been bought, plans have been accepted by the board of education, bids are being received and work is now under way. This is the second new public school building in Decatur in three years made necessary by the growth of population from 2,400 in 1910 to about 3,600 today.

For the past year Decatur has operated a public high school of three grades. Beginning in September there will be added a fourth high school grade, making it so that boys and girls may be prepared in Decatur for the best colleges and universities in the United States and for LIFE ANYWHERE.
